EARLY BREAK IN BIG 4 DEADLOCK IS SEEN TODAY

Believe Austrian Dispute Will End Soon; Molotov Speech Awaited.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 26—American authorities at the foreign ministers conference said today they expected an early break in the Big Four deadlock over timing of work on an Austrian peace treaty.

Secretary of State Marshall met for two hours with the U. S. delegation in preparation for the second council meeting set for today.

Sources close to the delegation said immediately afterwards it was believed that the Austrian dispute would be cleared up quickly.

V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, was reported by western power diplomats to be anxious to make a major speech on Germany at the earliest opportunity.

It was expected, though not at all certain, that Molotov would agree to place the Austrian issue first on the six-point agenda agreed to at the opening session yesterday, but with the understanding that it would be dispatched almost immediately to the deputy foreign ministers.

Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault might have to agree in turn, it was said, with Molotov's proposal for the order of items on Germany, giving priority to a discussion of peace treaty arrangements rather than to the economic and political unity of Germany.

This would get the conference quickly into a discussion of Germany and provide Molotov the opportunity the Americans and Britons believe he wants to deliver a speech critical of their occupation policies. In the western view, the speech would be aimed at the German people.

The familiar three-to-one split which became a pattern of the last conference of foreign ministers in Moscow developed at the opening session.

At their first meeting since then, France, Great Britain and the United States united yesterday to say that work on an independence treaty for Austria should be given priority over German problems.

Molotov said he thought the German issues were more important and should have priority.

Whether these widely varying points of view could be compromised with reasonable speed was the main question confronting the Big Four today.

Agree on Some Points

Yesterday's opening session in London's century-old Lancaster house was regarded as a virtual preview of developments in the days to come. Diplomats present described the atmosphere as easy and free of tension, despite accusations recently exchanged between east and west.

There was agreement on some points, but also a foretaste of the disputes to come.

The major agreement achieved was on a six-point program of subjects which the foreign ministers will begin discussing as soon as they have decided which one to discuss first.

The points accepted for discussion:

▶Completion of a treaty for Austria.

▶Principles for economic unification of Germany.

▶Form and scope of a provisional German government.

▶The United States proposal for a German disarmament treaty.

▶The present state of German demilitarization.

▶Preparation of a German peace treaty, including frontiers.

What this agreement on the agenda amounted to was an agreement that the foreign ministers would take up almost exactly at the point where they left off, in disagreement, at Moscow last April. The problem confronting them is whether they can go on from there.

GEN. GOBLE NAMED OHIO BONUS CHIEF

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 26—Adjt. Gen. Chester W. Goble today was given the job—at $1 a year—of paying out $300,000,000 in bonuses to Ohio veterans of World War II.

He was named director of the "World War II Compensation fund" by the state sinking fund commission, composed of the governor, auditor of state, treasurer, secretary of state and attorney general.

Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel suggested Frank McCaslin of Cleveland, state commander of the American Veterans of World War II, for the job, but the commission elected General Goble by a 4-1 vote.

Goble will continue to handle his duties of adjutant general.

MEYERS' BOND DEALS LISTED

Total of $4,000,000 Reported; Senate Inquiry To Be Expanded.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—General Bennett Meyers' involved transactions in government bonds were detailed today as Chairman Tobey (R-NH), of the senate banking committee promised an investigation to "stop this joyriding in government securities."

Testimony concerning about $4,000,000 in bond dealings was brought out in public hearings into affairs of the retired former deputy chief of air forces procurement but committee records list transactions exceeding $10,000,000.

Information on loans made to Meyers by the Cleveland Trust company and the general's billion dollar deals in bonds have been relayed to Tobey's group by the committee.

Tobey told a reporter his committee, "after the first of the year, will look into not only the Meyers' deals, but into the buying of government bonds in general.

Figured at 10 Million

Official records of the war investigating committee show that Meyers bought and sold more than $10,0000,000 in government bonds which paid from 2¼ to 2½ per cent, financed by loans from the Cleveland firm. Meyers paid one to 1¼ per cent to the bank for the loans.

Meyers testified he had paper profits of $90,000 but "that capital gain is substantially washed up, right now it is just about even."

A committee investigator said the official records showed:

Meyers operated through two accounts at the Cleveland bank—one established with his wife and another, termed the aid account,

MEYERS GRAND JURY WITNESSES CALLED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—The justice department began rounding up witnesses today for a grand jury investigating the affairs of retired Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers.

The 23 jurors took a recess until Monday after receiving the bulky record of a senate war investigating subcommittee which heard testimony that Meyers ran an aircraft parts factory while he was deputy chief of air force purchasing.

George Morris Fay, federal district attorney, and T. Vincent Quinn, head of the justice department's criminal investigation division, were in charge of the grand jury presentation.

They gave no inkling of the charges on which indictments would be sought, but the senate committee has suggested perjury, income tax evasion and war fraud, among others.

The air force, which has announced that the retired general will be courtmartialed in a move to deprive him permanently of his $550 monthly disability pension, is awaiting the outcome of the grand jury investigation before calling members to account.

The pension already has been discontinued.

Galion Driver Hurt in Crash

Charles Chubb, 73, in Hospital After Snow Causes Auto Skid from Road.

Condition of Charles Chubb, 73, of Galion, injured in an automobile accident yesterday, was reported "fair" by authorities in Galion city hospital today.

Mr. Chubb suffered severe lacerations of the forehead, lacerations of the right knee, fracture of at least three ribs, and fracture of the right heel bone, when the car he was driving ran off route 30-S about three miles south of Galion last night.

The accident occurred at about 8 p. m., the state highway patrol reported. Mr. Chubb was driving alone.

Chubb was apparently driving west on route 30-S and had traveled about 300 feet beyond the fork in the highway where route 61 leaves 30 when his car slipped on the thin snow and ran off the road, through a guard rail, and dropped 15 feet into a ravine, the highway patrol reports.

He couldn't get out of his car and blew his horn to attract attention. Persons in nearby Midway filling station heard the horn and investigated, calling the state patrol.

The patrol sent for an ambulance from Mt. Gilead which took Mr. Chubb to the Galion hospital.

Scene of the accident is just south of Iberia. Highway 30-S makes a right bend at the junction of route 61, and Mr. Chubb had apparently just made the turn when his car skidded on the thin layer of snow. The front end of the car was badly damaged.

In another accident last night, Mrs. Emma Michalski, 52, of Cleveland, suffered lacerations of the forehead and right knee when her car ran off the road on a curve about three miles north of Mt. Gilead on route 42 at 10:30 p. m. She was treated by a Mt. Gilead physician. The car was badly damaged.

A car and a truck were both damaged when they collided just north of Marion on route 23 at 5:30 p. m. yesterday. The car was driven by Donald Barkley, 25, of near Marion, and the pickup truck was driven by Paul Stull of near Marion.

HUNT FOR SURVIVORS OF 51 IN SHIPWRECK

By The Associated Press

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Nov. 26—Beaches and wooded areas of rocky Hippa island were combed by Coast Guard searching parties as darkness lifted today for possible survivors of 51 crewmen aboard the ill-fated transport, Clarksdale Victory.

Capt. Niels Haugen, commanding officer of the Coast Guard base here, said a walkie-talkie report relayed from one part last night saying "search for survivors negative" remained unexplained, and that darkness had undoubtedly halted their efforts.

Two Coast Guard planes, one flown by Lt. Comdr. Oscar Weed, the base's air detachment commanding officer, sighted what appeared to be three survivors from the battered ship early in the day yesterday and dropped medical and other supplies.

The Victory ship was southbound from Whittier, Alaska, when it run aground and flashed an SOS at 10:04 p. m. (PST) last night. Its skipper was Gerald R. Laugesen, 29, Oakland, Calif., whose wife was on the way north to Seattle late yesterday for a planned meeting with him, before she heard of the wreck.

FRANCE EXPELS 19 MEMBERS OF RUSSIAN GROUP

Accused of "Interference" in Labor Crisis; New Violence Breaks Out.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Nov. 26—The ministry of the interior announced today the expulsion from France of 19 Russians for "interference in French affairs" during the current labor crisis, which erupted in new violence as police and strikers battled in the streets of Lyon.

The announcement identified the Russians as members of the "Soviet Patriotic Union" and said they included the president, the treasurer and two secretaries-general of the organization.

The 19 were taken by bus to an unstated frontier and put across the border, the ministry said.

In Lyon police used tear gas to break up a strikers' march on the prefecture after a mass labor rally called by the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT.)

National security police inspectors swooped down on the homes of the Russians Tuesday morning and a few hours later drove them by bus to an unannounced destination, believed to be the Soviet zone of Germany.

Seek To End Strikes

The action came as the new government strove to end the spreading strikes in France.

Eugene Thomas, secretary of state for communications, said the Communists have "launched a violent offensive" to force Paris postal employes to strike. He said "Communist elements are using intimidation and menace and trying to create an atmosphere of terror."

The interior ministry said the four expelled officers of the Soviet Patriotic Union were President Katchva, Treasurer Krivochine and Secretaries General Dmitri Kobalev and Alexander Palevov. The announcement said most of the group formerly were White Russians who became Soviet citizens after France was liberated.

The order came a few days after police raided a Russian repatriation camp outside Paris, seized a small quantity of arms and removed a woman and her three children.

Injuries In Fighting

Several persons were reported injured at Lyon in fighting which broke out between police and the demonstrators. Eye-witnesses estimated the number of strikers participating in the demonstration at approximately 20,000.

The trouble began when strikers attending the labor rally decided to march to the prefecture and present their grievances. They found approaches to the prefecture blocked by police barricades and attempted to charge police with Communist banners flying in the van, Lyon dispatches said.

The strikers retired when police fired into the crowd with tear gas, but a second melee broke out 20 minutes later when a score of policemen going off duty tried to march through the center of the demonstrators.

The prefect finally agreed to see a delegation of the strikers this afternoon.

In Paris, meanwhile, additional mobile guards and police were thrown around railway stations as trains continued to move on some lines in defiance of a general strike called by the national federation of railroad workers.

It was reported that Premier Robert Schuman's inner cabinet had agreed on a double-barreled policy calling for general wage increases and stern law enforcement measures to combat the wave of strikes and disorders sweeping the nation.

OPERATION ENDS 26-YEAR MEALLESS THANKSGIVINGS

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26—Mickey Schuster, 29, will eat his first Thanksgiving day dinner in 26 years when he sits down at the table tomorrow.

The Youngstown, O., furniture worker has returned to his home following an operation here which opened his esophagus—sealed tight for 26 years after Mickey swallowed lye as a child.

Before a surgeon lifted his stomach and attached it to his esophagus above the closed portion, Mickey had to take all his nourishment through a hole in his stomach.

Mickey said his dinner would include roast duck, candied sweet potatoes and pumpkin pie. He added:

"Just think, I've never tasted any of that food. Boy, I can hardly wait!"

Business Activity To Suspend For Thanksgiving Observance

Business activity will be suspended in Marion and vicinity tomorrow for the annual observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Area industrial plants, stores and business and professional offices will be closed. School students put away their books this afternoon for a long weekend. College students, many bringing guests, have returned to spend the holiday and weekend with their families.

The annual Thanksgiving union service sponsored by the Marion County Ministerial association will be held at 7:30 tonight in the First Presbyterian church. Rev. James C. Flint, a field worker for the World Church Service organization, will be speaker. A number of other churches in Marion and vicinity will also open their doors tonight and Thursday for special services.

The traditional turkey will grace bountifully laden tables in many homes with residents having extra cause to return thanks in view of the plight of fellowmen abroad who would be grateful for even a roof over their heads not to mention a full dinner table.

Weather Prediction

The weatherman predicts it will be mostly cloudy and cold with snow flurries tonight and possibly Thursday. However, it is doubtful if Marion can imitate the old New England tradition of getting out the sleigh and driving out to the farm for Thanksgiving dinner.

Many residents will be content, however, to observe the holiday at home with their families, the kitchen giving forth during the morning with savory aromas predicting the good things to come later in the day.

Sports lovers will be able to shift to an easy chair after dinner and listen to several annual Thanksgiving day football games. More ambitious individuals have been known to spend the morning afield with a shotgun.

Other Entertainment

Younger children and many of the grownups taper off the holiday attending the movies or entertaining guests. Local theaters have full bills scheduled for tomorrow.

For most citizens, the holiday will conclude tomorrow night with stores, offices and a majority of the industrial firms resuming production schedules Friday.

School children will get the long holiday, however, as will most of their older brothers and sisters in college. Pupils at Vernon Junior High school have an extended Thanksgiving vacation due to the fact that boiler repairs have forced closing the school both Tuesday and today. Obnoxious gas fumes from the opened boilers spreading into classrooms made it necessary to close the school again at 11 a. m. today. School classes resume Monday.

FREW IS REELECTED SCOUT CHAIRMAN

School Principal Named for Third Consecutive Term.

James E. Frew, principal of Edison Junior High school, was elected to his third consecutive term as Marion district Boy Scout chairman at a meeting of Boy Scout commissioners at the Scout office last night. Mr. Frew has been active in Scouting for 16 years and has served before his current series of terms.

Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, principal speaker to the group of about 40 Scouters, told how Scouting helped him in his work with juveniles and followed his talk with the showing of a movie, "A Boy in Court."

Scouters at the annual executive meeting represented 36 institutions backing the Boy Scout program.

Charles Smith, Marion district Boy Scout commissioner, reported on the Scout activities during the past year and was assisted in his report by field commissioners Herman Powelson, who spoke on Cubbing, Howard Robke on Boy Scouting and George H. Power on senior Scouting.

Owen Meddles, field executive, reported on the Scouting program's accomplishments during the past year, the weak points,

FALLING TREE KILLS MAN NEAR RICHWOOD

Delno W. Warner Dies While Cutting Timber.

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, Nov. 26—Delno O. Warner, 25, a farmer of east of Richwood, was killed about 4:30 p. m. Tuesday when he was crushed by a falling tree at the Pearl Miller farm. He and Frank Hickok were felling trees in the woods at the neighboring Miller farm when the accident occurred.

Born Feb. 2, 1912, in Delaware county, he was a son of Harry L. and Sarah K. Hickok Warner, the father a native of Claiborne and the mother of Leesburg township, Union county. He was a veteran of World War II, and was a member of Prospect Lodge No. 444, Masons, and of Marion Chapter No. 62, R.A.M., Marion Council No. 22, R. and S. M., and of the Prospect Eastern Star.

Surviving are his mother, who lives at the farm east of here, sisters, Miss Maxine Warner of Columbus and Mrs. Robert Stuckey of Prospect, and a brother, Dwight F. Warner of Columbus.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the Winter funeral chapel here. Burial will be in Bethlehem cemetery at Claiborne. Friends may call at the Warner home.

NEW DELAY HIT BY FOREIGN AID

House Committee Chairman Sees Dec. 4 as Earliest Date for Consideration.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—The administration's foreign aid program bumped into additional prospects of delay in the house today even as the senate pushed a $597,000,000 bill towards passage.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the house appropriations committee said today that it will probably be Dec. 4 at the earliest before his committee can even consider appropriating funds for emergency aid to France, Italy, and Austria.

Taber made the statement to reporters after a conference with President Truman on the $597,000,000 European relief program which the house foreign affairs committee yesterday reduced by $100,000,000. After that action, the foreign affairs committee tacked on $60,000,000 for China.

The measure before the foreign affairs committee simply authorizes the proposed program.

Before any aid is actually sent, legislation appropriating the funds will have to be cleared from Taber's committee.

The foreign affairs committee's vote to cut down the size of European aid was reported to have been by a 10-0 vote. The vote on $60,000,000 for China was not reported.

The two big changes put the total okayed by the house group at $549,000,000 and sent state department officials out of the committee room dejectedly shaking their heads. The action is not final until the committee formally approves a bill, but it hopes to do that next Monday.

The senate plugged steadily along meanwhile toward approval of a bill containing nothing for China and the full $597,000,000 President Truman recommended for the three European nations.

Taft Promises Support

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Republican policy committee in the senate, sank the last traces of effective opposition. He told a reporter he would vote for the aid bill.

"We must do something to help France, Italy and Austria," he said, "because this is a real emergency."

But the Ohio senator, who has

TRUMAN COMMUTES CURLEY'S SENTENCE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—President Truman today commuted the federal mail fraud sentence of Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, providing for his release today from the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn.

The commutation provides that Curley's sentence has been completed with the five months he has served of a six to 18 months' sentence for mail fraud conviction.

Mr. Truman also commuted the sentence of Donald Wakefield Smith, a former member of the national labor relations board, who was convicted on the same charge. Smith hard been sentenced to a term of from four months to one year and a day.

The commutations mean that

WANT CURBS ON USE AND PRICE WHEN NEEDED

Gas Rationing Also Seen Possible; Marion Congressman Calls It "Socialism."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—Two cabinet officers told congress today that in view of the proposed foreign aid program the government should have power to say what use is made of the nation's steel output and grain crops.

Secretary of Commerce Harriman and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson testified before separate legislative committees in support of President Truman's economic program.

Both backed his request for authority to restore price controls and rationing, if he decides they are needed.

On allocations, Harriman told the senate-house economic committee there should be "limited powers" to direct steel to the "most essential program." And he added that "more far reaching proposals" are being prepared.

Broadly, allocation would permit the government to say how much of any particular commodity is used for a certain purpose. How much steel, for instance, the automobile industry would be allowed to use.

Anderson was before the house banking committee. As to needed allocation in the farm and crop field, he told it:

"In order that we may be prepared for any serious emergency that might arise, such as failure of grain crops, it would be necessary to have authority not only for controlling exports but for limiting inventories and directing use of grain domestically through the most essential channels.

Other Controls Needed

"Authority for allocating the use of storage and transportation facilities and distribution of farm machinery and fertilizer would also be necessary."

As for export controls, Anderson said these are needed (1) to protect our domestic economy (2) aid in supplying import requirements of those countries in greatest need (3) to meet our obligations under food allocations procedures, and (4) to secure the cooperation of other nations in meeting America's import needs.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder yesterday urged controls over credits and Oscar L. Chapman, undersecretary of the interior, said possible need is foreseen for price controls over petroleum and coal and perhaps for rationing of gasoline.

Harriman urged granting of authority to control prices of export goods.

Mr. Truman has asked authority to control allocation and inventories of basic commodities affecting prices and industrial programs, but Harriman was the first administration leader to say that steel controls are needed.

"By use of limited priority and allocation powers," he said, a "small proportion" of steel could be diverted from less essential purposes to production of freight cars and farm equipment.

At the same time, he called for continuance of present authority to allocate supplies of tin, and said that "more far reaching proposals" are being prepared for submission to congress later.

Prior to Harriman's testimony, two leading Republican senators—Taft of Ohio and Millikin of Colorado—predicted part of the Truman anti-inflation program would get congressional approval by Christmas.

Rep. Smith Objects

Taft and Millikin talked to reporters after Rep. Frederick C. Smith (R) of Marion, raised a cry of "socialism" against an administration proposal for price controls on coal and rationing of gasoline, if voluntary measures fail. The proposal was made by Oscar L. Chapman, acting secretary of the interior, before the house banking committee yesterday.

Harriman told the senate group that a grant of power to fix prices on goods shipped out of the country would enable the government to "strengthen the drive against profiteering in exports."

"Foreign purchasers are often willing to pay prices substantially above the domestic price of scarce materials," Harriman said, adding that sales by exporters at "excessive prices" have these effects:

▶They drain away goods from domestic use and bid up prices at home toward the level of "inflated world prices."

▶They cause a "more rapid depletion of dollar exchange reserves" of the purchasing countries, increasing cost of foreign aid

DAILIES USING NEW METHOD

No Typesetting Needed To Meet Editions as Chicago Printers Strike.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 26—Chicago's six big daily newspapers, confronted with a strike by printers, are tinkering with new ways of publishing a newspaper—and are meeting most editions.

Walk into any of the plants and the meaning of the strike, insofar as the mechancs of putting out a newspaper are concerned, comes to you by ear.

The soft click-click of typewriter keys has replaced the heavy clanking of linotypes at the Tribune, the Sun, Journal of Commerce, Daily News, Herald-American and the Times.

Girl typists from the newspapers' business offices have replaced members of the striking local 16 of the Chicago Typographical Union (AFL.)

The girls can't do the same job the printers did but they perform the same step—in a different way. Printers set type a column width line at a time on a lead slug, thus the name of the machine they use —linotype.

Now, instead of going to the composing room to be set into type, the news stories and advertising material are given to the girl typists.

The Tribune has brought the girls—about 60 of them—right into its huge, two-story high newsroom.

They copy the stories on ordinary letter-size sheets on smooth white paper ruled to one or two columns wide.

Make-up editors paste the news and ads on large sheets of white cardboard. Each page prepared in this manner is photographed on a metal engraving plate.

From this point, the publishing process is the same as before the strike. Each photo-engraved page is stereotypes, the curved plates are locked on rotary presses, and the newspaper is "ready to roll."

The 1,500 printers are the only employes on strike following a breakdown in contract negotiations. The publishers continue unhampered at the other steps of newspaper production as the photo-engravers, pressmen and mailers belong to other unions are not on strike.

So the crucial job is being done by the girl typists.

Work Done Twice

They have to copy each story twice. The first time the right hand margin comes out uneven.

But after each line the typist notes the exact number of spaces the line has fallen short of the right hand margin. She never extends a line beyond the desired length.

In copying the story a second time she leaves enough blank spaces in each line to make the lines come out even. In printers' language, they "justify."

Left hand margins are, of course, set in the usual way.

Special electric justifying typewriters are being used by some of the six newspapers.

OHIOAN WANTS SPECIAL AGENCY FOR AID PROGRAM

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—Rep. Bender (R-Ohio) has asked that "actual administration" of the European aid program be turned over to the Society of Quakers or a new "special agency." He said he has no "real confidence" in the ability of the state department to administer the program.

In a house speech yesterday, he added that administrative details of any aid program "must be worked out before it starts, not afterward."

Ohio Death Benefits $66 Million in 9 Months

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—Death benefit payments on life insurance policies held by Ohioans totaled $66,165,000 in the first nine months of 1947, as compared with $61,593,000 in the comparable 1946 period, the Institute of Life Insurance reported today.

The Institute said $44,267,000 was paid under 16,683 ordinary policies; $11,474,000 under 5,032 group policies; and $10,424,000 under 42,059 industrial insurance policies.

HIGH GROSS REVENUE MARK IS SET BY ERIE

By International News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—Erie railroad yesterday reported a net income of $834,357 for the month of October after all charges but before dividends. The figure is the highest gross revenues for any month in the company's history.

R. E. Woodruff, president of the company, said that "the prospects for a continued high level of business looks encouraging for the immediate future. Carloadings are holding up better than expected and each car is producing more revenue".

The net income for the first 10 months of 1947 was $2,607,493, equivalent to 38 cents a share of common stock after providing for preferred stock dividends.

For the same period in 1946, there was a loss of $2,958,702.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM CONDUCTED BY CHURCH

A program of entertaining children of the community on Friday nights has been put into practice recently by Lee Street Presbyterian church. Games and other entertainment are provided at the church, and more than 90 children have been reported attending. This project, to provide wholesome recreation for the children and to "keep them off the streets" for an hour, is successful in being well received by the community as a service to all children, not alone to those who attend the Presbyterian church, it was stated.

To Vaccinate 70 Pupils In Conneaut Schools

By The Associated Press

CONNEAUT, O., Nov. 26—Mass immunization of all school children for smallpox began here today, and City Health Commissioner J. G. Constantine said the program would continue after the Thanksgiving recess ends Monday.

Approximately 700 children are to be vaccinated. The mass immunization was ordered Monday after six-year-old Barbara Goodiel, a grade school pupil, was reported by Constantine as the city's first smallpox victim in 32 years.

An emergency shipment of serum was flown here late yesterday from the state health department at Columbus.

Thanksgiving

In a world where millions are on a starvation diet, every citizen should give heartfelt thanks for the privileges we enjoy in this land of plenty.

Even though prices may seem to find no peak, there still remains the fact that we have an adequate supply of everything we need. That is more than can be said of the peoples in Europe or Asia. If sharing with them brings up some slight discomfort, we still will have much for which we should be thankful.

Stop Running to the Cellar!

Doing the Family Wash in the Basement Is As Out-of-Date As a 1929 Lady's Dress

Forget Blue Mondays! Take all of the hard work out of doing the family wash. It is fun with a Westinghouse Laundrymat. Ask the hundreds of your friends who own one.

Toss a load of clothes into your Westinghouse, then go about washing dishes - go down shopping and come back in half an hour or in five hours - you don't have to check a Westinghouse. It takes care of all details with never a worry on your part.

Come back when you please and find the clothes as clean and as fresh as brand new. Smaller pieces are all ready for the ironing board - washed, rinsed better than you could do it and dried better than you could do it by hand or with a wringer. And your hands have never touched the water.

No more mangled hands or fingers caught in dangerous wringers. No more risking your life running up and down stairs. Your Westinghouse will do the job better and with less water than you use in an old fashioned washing machine. And there is not a chance in the world for children to get hurt with a Westinghouse.

Get your wife, your mother out of the cellar. Get her a Westinghouse Laundromat and put it right in the Kitchen where it belongs. Where it is handy—where it will save hours and hours of hard work and where it will save broken bones.

Get HER a Westinghouse for Christmas and watch her smile.

The Westinghouse is guaranteed for five years. Try one in your own home at our risk. The whole family will love it.

WARNING!
MEAT SHORTAGE!

Agriculture Department Experts Predict Smallest Supply in 20 Years! As stated in Newsweek

Coming Meat Shortage

Housewives should make the most of the plentiful meat supplies expected for the next few months. High prices are bringing a flood of cattle, hogs, and sheep to market, but after the run is over a decline will set in for at least two years. Agriculture Department experts predict. They believe that as a result of the slaughter of animals needed for breeding there'll be a billion pounds less meat in 1948 than the present annual consumption of 23,000,000,000 pounds. Next year they expect 10% less beef and veal and the smallest supply of lamb and mutton in twenty years.

Now is the time to protect your family . . . to insure their having the good meat they need to remain healthy and strong.

Do as many families did during the past war—freeze and store a good supply of meat while it is still obtainable!

We have available for immediate delivery the famous DEEPFREEZE home freezers. Stop in today! Select yours. Save time, food and money, too! Ask us to show you how. We're the people who can prove it to you!

There's a DEEPFREEZE home freezer to fit the needs of every family . . . every purse! Prices range from $199.95 delivered and installed in your home.

Couple Mark Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. JAMES T. JOHNSTON

Mr. and Mrs. James Titus Johnston of 589 Davids street celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday by holding open house at their home, receiving their guests from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 to 9 in the evening. As the anniversary date was Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were honored at a family dinner that evening at Greenwood Inn.

For the open house observance, the rooms were decorated with baskets of golden mums and pompons. The refreshment table in the dining room was centered with a large bowl of yellow roses and lighted by white candles held in crystal holders.

Mrs. Johnston received her guests in a black dinner dress trimmed with gold sequins. She wore a corsage of yellow roses, a gift sent by her grandson, Cpl. Richard E. Baldauf of the medical division of the U. S. Army stationed at Letterman General hospital in San Francisco, Calif. Mr. Johnston wore a yellow rose boutonniere, also a gift from Cpl. Baldauf. The celebrants received many gifts and congratulatory messages.

At the family dinner, the guests were seated at a candle lighted table centered with a cake decorated with a large wedding ring. The evening was spent socially.

Wed in Green Camp

The bride of 50 years ago, Miss Addie J. Ryan, became Mrs. Johnston in a ceremony read Nov. 24, 1897, in the parsonage of the Green Camp Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. Edward Esta. Mr. Johnston, who is 72, and Mrs. Johnston, who is 71, have lived at their present address 35 years. Both are active in fraternal and grange work and are members of the Trinity Baptist church. Mr. Johnston has been city and county road inspector for the past 30 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston are parents of three children who were present to help celebrate the occasion. They are Harley T. Johnston of Prospect, Mrs. James O. Bull of 298 Belmont street and Mrs. Roy C. Baldauf of 431 Olney avenue, eight grandchildren, Francine Johnston of Prospect, Jack, Junet, Barbara and John Bull of Belmont street, Mrs. Miriam J. Baldauf Oller and Miss Patricia A. Baldauf of Olney avenue, and Cpl. Baldauf, and one great grandchild, Miss Carole Sue Oller.

Mrs. Johnston has two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Maud Ryan Quilligan of Columbus, Mrs. Daisy Ryan Kreis of Coronada Beach, Fla., Rex Ryan of Coronada Beach, Fla., and Zenith P. Ryan of Caledonia. Mr. Johnston has two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Seiter of South Prospect street and Mrs. Esta M. Thatcher of East Center street.

Former Teachers Attend

Among the guests present at the open house observance were three of Mr. Johnston's former school teachers, Mrs. Carrie Hyatt Wallace of Albia, Ia., Mrs. E. W. Pollock of Kingfisher, Okla., and Mrs. Ida Slack Lanius of Green Camp.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Paul of Lima, Mayor and Mrs. Earl V. Sloan and children of Grover Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnston and sons of Tiro, Homer Sherman of Delaware, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Kaelber, Mrs. Mary Boxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Delno Boxwell, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Lauer, Mrs. Peter Graves and Mrs. Vera A. Herbster, all of Prospect.

Congratulatory messages were received from San Francisco, Calif., Coronada Beach, Fla., Battle Mountain, Nev., Pittsburgh, Pa., Matoon, Ill., Athens, LaRue and Green Camp.

NIKA BIBLE CLASS OF SALEM CHURCH MEETS

At a meeting of the Nika Bible class of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church Thursday night in the home of Mrs. William Lloyd on East Mark street, Thanksgiving was the theme of a devotional period. Group singing was led by Mrs. E. C. Klutey. She read an article. Mrs. Wilfred Orton read a poem, and Mrs. Harry Griffith read Scripture. Mrs. Curtis Pace offered prayer. It was decided to pack two boxes of food and clothing to be sent to a needy family in Germany. Mrs. Lloyd was appointed chairman of flowers and cards for the sick, Mrs. Klutey, chorister and pianist, and Mrs. Jacob Ebert, reporter and penny shares chairman. Contest honors went to Mrs. Harry Hoffman and Mrs. Ebert. Mrs. Hoffman assisted in serving. At a meeting Dec. 18, a Christmas exchange will be held and annual white gift offering will be received. Mrs. Ebert will be hostess in her home at 564 Cherry street.

NORTON SOCIETY MEETS

Mrs. Ruth Cline was hostess for a meeting of the Norton W.S.C.S. Thursday at her home. Mrs. LaVern Reichardt was assistant hostess. Mrs. Jean Stevens presided, and Scripture was read by Mrs. Marguerite Manville. Guests included Mrs. Herbert Lauer, Mrs. Joseph Rowlins, Mrs. Boyer and Mrs. Odell of Ashley. At the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Howald, a Christmas gift exchange will be held.

GREEN CAMP SCOUT TROOP DISCUSSED AT MEETING

Plans to organize a Boy Scout troop were discussed Sunday afternoon at a combined meeting of the Green Camp Junior Sportsmen club, the Major-Ettes and Junior-Ettes held at the school gymnasium.

Earl N. Hale, secretary of the Marion Y. M. C. A. spoke on the subject, "This Game of Life." The meeting, in charge of Thomas Finch, was opened with prayer by Mrs. Henry Lauer. The program included a piano solo by Mrs. Charles Alexander and a solo by Kitty Kempton with Norma Cleland playing piano accompaniment. A report on Major-Ettes activities was given by Mrs. Vernon Davis and Mrs. Thomas Finch reported on activities of the Junior-Ettes.

Owen Meddles, Scout executive, outlined plans for the formation of a Scout unit in Green Camp then introduced James Frew, principal of Edison Junior High school and Scout chairman of the Marion district. Informal talks were given by Vernon Davis, Rev. Lester R. Kidd, O. L. Ulry, Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. Henry Lauer, Mrs. Floyd Wolfinger and Mayor H. D. Kempton.

Plans were made for a meeting to be held Dec. 1 at 8 p. m. in the K. of P hall for all boys interested in joining the Scout unit. Thomas Finch will serve as Scoutmaster when the troop is activated. Committee in charge of arrangements includes Mr. Davis, Joseph Ward and G. W. Sorreles. Mayor Kempton is neighborhood Scout commissioner for Green Camp.

TOP NAZI LEADERS DESCRIBED FOR CLUBS

Miami Alumni Secretary Talks Before Luncheon Groups.

John E. Dolibois, one of the five official interpreters at the Nazi war trials, spoke on the subject, "I Knew Top Nazi Men," before a joint luncheon meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at Hotel Harding Tuesday.

Mr. Dolibois was born in Luxembourg and at the age of 15 came to the United States. He became a naturalized citizen and went to college at Miami university, Oxford, O. During his enrollment at Miami he entered the U. S. Army and served in the intelligence department. He is now the alumni director at Miami.

Before Mr. Dolibois began his talk he passed for inspection a strap from Reichsmarshal Goering's uniform. He also showed a photograph of Goering's family.

Mr. Dolibois said Hitler's staff considered him a genius while mapping war strategy. At times Hitler was considered completely insane; for example, while attending staff meetings he might stare vacantly into space for 15 or 20 minutes. Mr. Dolibois told how Hitler on Sundays, whether alone or in the midst of a party, at exactly 2:30 p. m. would ring for his servant. The servant would enter the room leading two large dogs. Hitler would wrestle with the dogs for exactly one-half hour. Mr. Dolibois expressed his belief that Hitler is dead.

Hitler's Enemies

Adolf Hitler had two enemies to start with, the German aristocracy and the German general staff. He could dispose of the aristocracy without trouble, but the staff was a different problem.

Mr. Dolibois, in discussing the attempted assassination of Hitler, said the staff held its war strategy meetings in a rural area of Germany in a small shack. At one of these meetings Hitler's life was saved by a thick table, which protected him from a bomb explosion set for him. The Germans called it fate, but we call it delayed justice, the speaker declared.

Mr. Dolibois mentioned the followers of Hitler. He discussed the lives of Hess and Goering, their actions, and thoughts. The speaker became friendly with Goering and gained his confidence after many long talks. He believes that Hess's flight was not to run away but to go to England and ask them to arbitrate and end the war. He expressed the opinion that Hess was the loneliest man in the prison during the trial. No one would talk to him or even look at him because everyone thought he was a failure. Hess did not try to defend himself at his trial.

Cheat Justice

Mr. Dolibois told how Goering, Himmler and Bormann eluded justice. Himmler and Goering committed suicide by poison. Bormann has never been apprehended. The speaker commented that Bormann was the most dangerous Nazi of them all. After the attempted killing of Hitler, he was made head of the party and would not let Hitler's best friends contact him.

Guests at the meeting were H. H. Stephenson of Miami university, Rev. H. S. Wilson of Akron, J. J. Oram, Kenneth Somerlot, J. G. Lytle, Charles Oborn, Joseph O'Connor, Maynard Smith, Harry Lazear, Chris G. Turoff, Herman Unger, William Riddle, and George Black, all of Marion.

The Harding Herald reporter was Stan Garey.

U. S. College Enrollment Up Million Over 1940

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—College enrollment for the 1947-48 school year reached the record total of 2,338,226, almost a million more than the pre-war peak of 1940 and 260,131 more than a year ago, the federal security agency announced today.

Included are 1,122,738 veterans of World War II, of whom 24,091 are women. The veterans comprise 48 per cent of total enrollment and their number increased 3.92 per cent over the year before.

The figures were compiled by the agency as a result of a survey of 1,753 schools—every institution of higher education on record in this country.

The returns showed that New York had the highest student total, 280,874, followed by California, 178,863; Illinois, 163,725; Pensylvania, 142,280; Ohio, 142,270, and Texas, 122,516.

A car ferry service was established across San Francisco Bay in 1880.

MOVIES DROP TEN CITED BY CONGRESS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—Filmdom's top executives voted yesterday to purge their payrolls of any known members of subversive groups and simultaneously ordered the suspension of 10 Hollywood figures recently cited for contempt of congress for their refusal to state whether they were Communists.

The action, announced by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, brought immediaate protests from the 10 under citation who accused the producers of "rushing into this action before the issue . . . has been heard by the courts."

The cited employes are: Albert Maltz, Dalton Trumbo, Samuel Arnitz, John Howard Lawson, Ring Lardner Jr., Lester Cole and Alvah Bessie, writers; Herbert Biberman, director-producers; Edward Dmytryk, director, and Robert Adrian Scott, writer and producer.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"I CAN see how Katharine would prefer that Faith should not go away from the hotel in your absence," Olga Veritzen said comprehendingly. "But, remember, dear Madge, to tell Katharine that if Olina or I can aid in any way tomorrow, she is to call upon us."

"I shall tell her, gladly, and thankfully, and I know she will be most grateful to you," I said truthfully.

"I hope she will call upon us," Olga said with a note of doubt in her voice, then she went on, a bit more hastily than is her usual manner.

"For myself, I am very glad,—am sure that Olina shares my feeling—of your news about Faith. It will give my daughter an uninterrupted day to herself—which she needs. I am sure you comprehend my meaning."

"Yes, indeed," I said, knowing as well as she did, the blissful yet anxious meditation which would be Olina's upon Georges' dramatic return, and her bizarre, romantic wedding.

"One thing more," Olga said before I could speak again. "What time are you going to the hospital?"

"Immediately after luncheon," I said, for I already had settled that point in my own mind, and I knew that the rest of the party would agree with me.

"Then that will give me time," she said with relief in her voice. "I wish to send Madame Graham something to tempt her appetite.

"If it's on a par with your usual gifts to Mother," I told her laughing, "she won't have to be tempted to eat it. She'll be drooling at the very thought of it."

"You are very flattering," she told me, "and I'll do my best to deserve your encomiums. Now, is there anything more you wish? I have nothing more on my mind."

"Not a thing," I said. "Goodbye."

"Good-bye." she echoed, and hanging up the receiver, I turned back to Katharine.

"'Little Woman what now?'" I parodied, and she gave me a gamin grin.

"Not a thing on my mind," she said. "I think we both can 'curl up with a good book' as Dicky claims to do until Noel and Mary emerge from their seclusion. Their breakfast came up, as you know while you were telephoning the Philip Veritzens. If Noel gets to his work on time, they should appear 'in person' before the half hour strikes."

"Then I'm going to finish an article in this magazine," I said, taking the one I wanted from the rack.

"You lofty high-brow," she mocked, as she took a small paperbound book from the same rack. "Me, I'm going to get on with a who-dun-it I began four days ago, and haven't had a chance to look at since."

"Is it a good one?" I asked with interest.

"No, you don't," she said, clasping the small volume with elaborate protectiveness. "Bury yourself in your study of the essence of the infinite, and leave me to my low-brow bliss. But—when I'm not reading it, I give you full permission to bury your snout in it."

"Such language!" I said with a grin.

"It would do English a lot of good to have some earthy phrases dropped into it occasionally," she teased. "Now, suppose you get to your reading, and let me find out into which mother's tea 'little Willie dropped the poison.'"

I chuckled at her quotation, and then we both read contentedly until Noel and Mary appeared at the door, apparently as untroubled as they had been the morning before.

"I'll have the flowers up before you get there," Noel told her at the door. Then he gave her a good-bye kiss and was gone. Mary walked back to us. She was smiling, and there was a mischievous twinkle in her eyes, so I knew that all was well with her—for the moment, at least.

"'Jes before Crismus, Noel's bein' as good as he kin be,'" she quoted. Then she drew a chair near to us.

"What's the latest from the family, the in-laws, and the button-hole relations?" she asked.

"Everything serene," I told her. "Dicky has Faith in his room, finishing their breakfast. She isn't going to school today or tomorrow—until I return. Olina was all ready to escort her, proving that Georges' return hasn't completely upset her, but Olga was relieved that she could stay at home all day today. And Olga is concocting something to tempt Mother Graham's appetite."

"Granzie probably will swallow it in gulps, lick the spoon and sit up and beg for more," Mary said flippantly. "She's going to have a lot of attention today. Noel is planning to send over assorted roses and such, as an apology for his not being able to join the party calling on her. I didn't tell him he wasn't invited."

GERMAN REDS STIR TROUBLE

[illegible] Underground in U. S. and British Zones on Orders from Moscow.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Nov. 26. — Recent American intelligence reports say the Communist party in western Germany, acting on instructions from Moscow, is making preparations for underground activity in the British and American occupation zones in the event it should be outlawed as a result of strained relations between the east and west.

Although the American military government has made no move to limit the freedom of the German Communist party (KPD), the intelligence reports said that "KPD anticipates" outlawing if the east-west strain continues and if Germany is permanently partitioned because of the failure of the Russians and the western powers to agree on unification.

With this in view, these reports say, the Communists are intensifying their efforts to infiltrate into labor unions and "all manner of organized groups, including local food and dairy cooperatives as well as factory groups."

For months the Communists also have sought to gain recognition in the British and American zones for the Socialist Unity Party (SED), a Soviet-sponsored Amalgamation of Communists and Social Democrats which is recognized only in the Soviet zone. These efforts have been unavailing because of insufficient popular support.

In their efforts to show popular backing, according to American reports, the Communists have resorted to 'placing names on petition lists which were known to be falsified.'

Other Communist tactices intended to gain new members, according to the American reports, include "distributing supplementary foodstuffs" in Berlin and intensive membership drives in the U. S. zone concentrated on "refugees and German youth, irrespective of their previous political background."

This meant that the Communists even have been going after former Nazis and Hitler youth members if such enlistments meant another member for the Communist party rolls.

American investigation of Communist activities also disclosed that the KPD had sent urgent pleas to Moscow to release hundreds of thousands of German prisoners of war still held in the Soviet Union "in order to capitalize on the propaganda value of such releases."

BUSINESS WOMEN ACT TO COMBAT INFLATION

A resolution was adopted at a recent meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club whereby all members are pledged to give careful consideration to world conditions individually, and to act "unselfishly" for the best interests of the many concerned. The points involved include effort to combat inflation by purchasing only most necessary items of food and clothing, refusing to hoard articles of food and clothing and to avoid extravagance, use of utmost efforts by members to acquaint themselves and others with aims and purposes of the United Nations and its accomplishments, and to practice individually each day "the Golden Rule which will bring to the realization that 'to be spiritually minded is peace.'"

This was in line with resolution adopted by the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs

The meeting was held at the home of Miss Ellen Carter of 360 Girard avenue. A Christmas box was packed for a Belgian child which the club has "adopted." Prizes in contests went to Mrs. Eleanor Altman and Miss Mary Ann Bausinger. Assistant hostesses were Misses Mary Florence Schuler, Evelyn McCormick, and Ruth Kramer, and Mrs. Catherine Raub.

GREEN CAMP CLUB MEETS

When the Green Camp Majorettes club met last week in the Melvin Seiter home, Betty Longnecker was hostess. Members chose as the club uniform blue skirt and white blouse or sweater and sport shoes. Following the meeting, fudge was made.

Molotov's Move

IF EVERYTHING goes according to plan—the Kremlin's probable plan—there will be an interval of diplomatic palaver in London, then Foreign Minister Molotov will do a Vishinsky and shatter the last feeble hope of cooperative security.

There are various theories about the Kremlin's behavior in this respect, but the most plausible explanation of Russian efforts to inflame a war-party spirit in the United States is a condition in the internal condition of Russia itself.

The Kremlin, faced with a population growing restless and dubious after close to a third of a century of privation and terror, is finding it necessary to create an external diversion to avert an internal explosion—not in the sense of a widespread disintegration of morale.

That would explain the iron curtain, the huge standing army, the campaign of abuse against the United States and Great Britain, even the frantic attempts to make Communist incidents in France and Italy. If the Russian dictatorship admitted that it now was free to build up the living standard, thanks to the forbearance of the United States, the only major power that never has wanted to invade Russian territory, the Kremlin would be challenged by its own people to give them what they never had because the dictatorship always was preparing for war. But as long as most Russians believe they face imminent attack, they will be willing to accept dictatorship as their only salvation

Ohio's Snafu Session

THE SNAFU, or special, session of the Ohio general assembly will have as its first order of business the straightening-out of errors in the drafts of laws passed in the regular session. The cost of the SNAFU session probably would pay several times the cost of an expert drafting section for the use of Ohio's assemblymen.

Their SNAFUs threaten to become intolerable. Gross errors in the gas tax law and the auto license tax law this year differ only in degree from less noticeable errors and blurs of language that have become common occurrences.

It happens because lawmakers are jostled by one another and by outsiders during consideration of bills to the point of distraction in the preparation of bills. In fact, most bills are prepared by interests outside the legislature and turned over to its members for action; the legislators have to take someone's word for it that the bills say what they are supposed to say.

This problem is handled in the United States congress by the employment of experts in drafting bills that do say what they are supposed to say. Apparently, that's what Ohio needs too.

The Rotten Apple

THE disgrace of Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, with the attendant revelations of fraud and venality, has brought from Gen. Arnold a reminder that one "rotten apple," as he put it, cannot mar the Air Force's magnificent record. But it is a bitter, disillusioning case for millions who served in the armed forces. They wonder if there are other culprits who have gone undetected. They wonder why it took outsiders to turn up this mess.

Gen. Meyers was an old Army man, not a businessman in uniform. His disgrace will not sit well with the tight little military heirarchy which errors, when and if made, were hushed up or smoothed over.

Gen. Arnold's voluntary admission that Meyers had disgraced the uniform must have been a difficult one for him to make. His confession that there was misjudgment and failure in his case is an indictment of the inspector system designed to turn up flaws in the military machine. The Meyers case should instill in the military brass more self-criticism and a little less tendency to set great store by the old school tie.

The National Game

POSTMASTER GENERAL HANNEGAN'S retirement as catcher for the Truman team in the national league of politics had been anticipated so long it was stale news before it happened.

It never was clear how Hannegan got into the big leagues in the first place. He was a good country ballplayer, but had a weakness for swinging at bad balls and popping up to the infield.

He had been for sale at the waiver's price so long it was a sure bet he'd have to get out of the national league of politics; as it has turned out, he merely is going to move over to the National League of baseball. It looks like a good switch. Hannegan always has been a heads-up ballplayer, a good team man With Harry Truman building for a pennant in 1948, it just happened the Democratic demons needed batting punch the former Kansas City sandlotter couldn't give him.

In a word, Hannegan leaves with the best wishes of his friends and critics. He may be surprised to learn that a fellow who gets out of politics at the right time has everything to gain and nothing to lose, like Jim Farley.

In a number of religions, the dead are anointed with holy oil to guard them against the vampires or ghouls which threaten to take possession of and live in these bodies.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Thanksgiving, 1947.

LET NO man say that he has nothing to be thankful for in this year 1947—no man in America. For here he lives in liberty. Here he is a man living in the dignity of a human personality.

Here no man is enslaved to another. No man need fear another, nor fear anything but his own wickedness, his own stupidity, his own cupidity. He can live his own life, follow his own judgment, Pursue his own will, speak his own mind, root himself deep in the traditions of his past, keep his head high, looking always toward the Heaven of his faith.

SOKOLSKY

We live too much in a world of politics and economics, too much of bread and things. And yet, never before has man so craved an answer to his uncertainties. It is asked how does it happen that in a country where everybody is so well off, compared with all this hungering world, there is so much discontent? The discontent is real; the well-being a chimera.

The discontent is real because we are so confused about ourselves, confused about what we really believe to be true; confused about what we have been and are being taught in schools and colleges; confused about our family life with so many separations, annulments and divorces; confused even about the relations of parent and child, between husband and wife, between the citizen and the state

Land of Plenty

True, we have automobiles and radios and electric refrigerators. And we have fine clothes. And we eat good, healthful food. We have everything. No American dares say that he does not have more of the material goods of the world than human beings have anywhere. Imagine Elizabeth and Philip celebrating their wedding with a breakfast of eggs—wonderful eggs, eggs so rare for them, so unusual, so scarce even for kings and queens and dukes and princesses! Yet, here when we cannot have omelettes, we eat cake.

But a full stomach does not satisfy a man's craving to know what he means to himself, what life means to him. What is he? Is he only a bundle of calcium and hormones and chemicals bound together by an epidermis? Is he nothing but an upstanding worm that somehow learned to talk and even to think? Is he nothing but ashes that is to be returned to ashes—dust to dust, without a soul, without will, without the sacred qualities of love and hope and faith and compassion?

These doubts and uncertainties trouble our generation and breed a discontent amidst the richest plenty ever known anywhere by any generation. How thankful we must be for our plenty! How thankful we must be that we can, in freedom, discuss our fears and doubts and uncertainties.

Where People Are Afraid

For in many parts of the world, government exists only by terror, only by so increasing the fears of the people that they dare not raise their voices to ask, "What am I?" "Why am I here up on this earth?"

It is God's blessing to us that we live in freedom, a blessing so wonderful that every day should be Thanksgiving day. We, who possess this gift of human liberty, this security of freedom, can say with the 11th century poet, Solomon Ibn Gabirol:

"We wander ever to and fro,
Or sit in chains in exile drear,
Yet still proclaim where'er we go,
The splendor of our Lord is here.
"Sore-tried, involved in heathen mesh,
Deep-sunk as though in midmost sea,
Each morn the thought is roused afresh,
Who will arise to set us free?

"Gripped as a bird within a net,
Ever pursued in deadly chase,
With harsh devices daily met,
Ever pursued in deadly chase,
With harsh devices daily met,
Perchance our God will grant us grace.
"How many periods are past,
And we in exile lingering,
By enemies encompassed fast,
Who jeer that now we have no king!

"With joy the lost and wounded bless,
Wipe from all eyes the tears that run
Unveil the orb of righteousness,
For unto us is born a son.
"O break the yoke, the slave release,
Rebuke the arrogant again,
And send thy messenge of peace,
Whose feet are welcome as the rain."

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

Who Said This Was An Age of Specialization?

A Chicago scientist has invented a lamp which illuminates, deodorizes, kills bacteria and gives a sun-tan.

Everything, in short, but mind the baby.

This is the day of multiple purpose objects, an era which got under way inauspiciously around the turn of the century with the combination gold toothpick and ear-spoon.

Today we have combination radios and alarm clocks, end tables and sewing machines and phonographs and bars. The modern watch not only winds itself but also gives the humidity, altitude and weather forecast.

Why one of the new model automobiles is even convertible into a green-house in a pinch.

I guess I'm just old-fashioned. But I never thought to see the day when a citizen wouldn't buy a pocket comb unless it would also write under water.

There's No Place Like Home

By Jane Eads

ALMOST a million children, many of whom otherwise might have been placed in institutions, are being maintained in their own homes by federal funds under the social security program.

These children are in 400,000 families and are cared for under the aid to dependent children provisions of the Social Security Act, which on Aug. 14 observed its twelfth birthday. Average payment per family in May this year was $62 a month.

The U. S. Children's Bureau reports that the number of youngsters living in public institutions for dependent, neglected or delinquent children at the beginning of the year was 28 per cent below the figure for 1933.

For years the Children's Bureau has held it "absurd" to take a child away from a poor but competent mother, then pay his "keep" in a crowded institution.

Back in 1912, when the idea was first introduced, it was considered "revolutionary." Critics contended it would increase "pauperism."

Illinois had partially broken the ground by establishing mother's pensions the year before. Then other states followed suit. The Children's Bureau began a study of these laws in 1914. The findings provided much of the impetus for general adoption of this form of public assistance by practically all of the states.

With passage of the Social Security Act in 1935, the principle was written into federal law. In the 12 years during which this law has made funds available to the states for the development of child-welfare services many state governments have set up special divisions for this purpose.

Under another social security program $3,500,000 is now being authorized annually for grants to state departments of welfare to help them carry out services to children in all kinds of trouble.

Each year help is brought to almost a quarter million boys and girls. Some of these socially-handicapped children come from the nation's nearly 4,000,000 orphans or half-orphans, 60,000 of whom are children of servicemen who died in the war.

Some are from among the 100,000 babies, born out of wedlock each year, whose mothers as often as not are children themselves. Still others who need special attention are among the quarter million brought into juvenile courts each year and several times that number who come to police attention.

One of the largest groups are those whose mothers are working away from home.

Try Doing a Job—Just Once

ITS complaint of the month, says The Ohio Citizen, official publication of Ohio Welfare Council, is against "the arm-chair sociologist, the cocktail hour humanitarian, the conference intellectual. We're haling to the bar (the legal and moral one) the bird who has the vocabulary, the wind and the time to mix Henry and Harry James in the acceptable modern fashion, who can cleverly dilute his portions of sports and politics when the Reds are under consideration. He is the second vice president of the local welfare league, and is quite modest about it all, and he also has the great courage to stand boldly against communism in the Midwest. But . . ."

—and this is what The Ohio Citizen is bothered about:

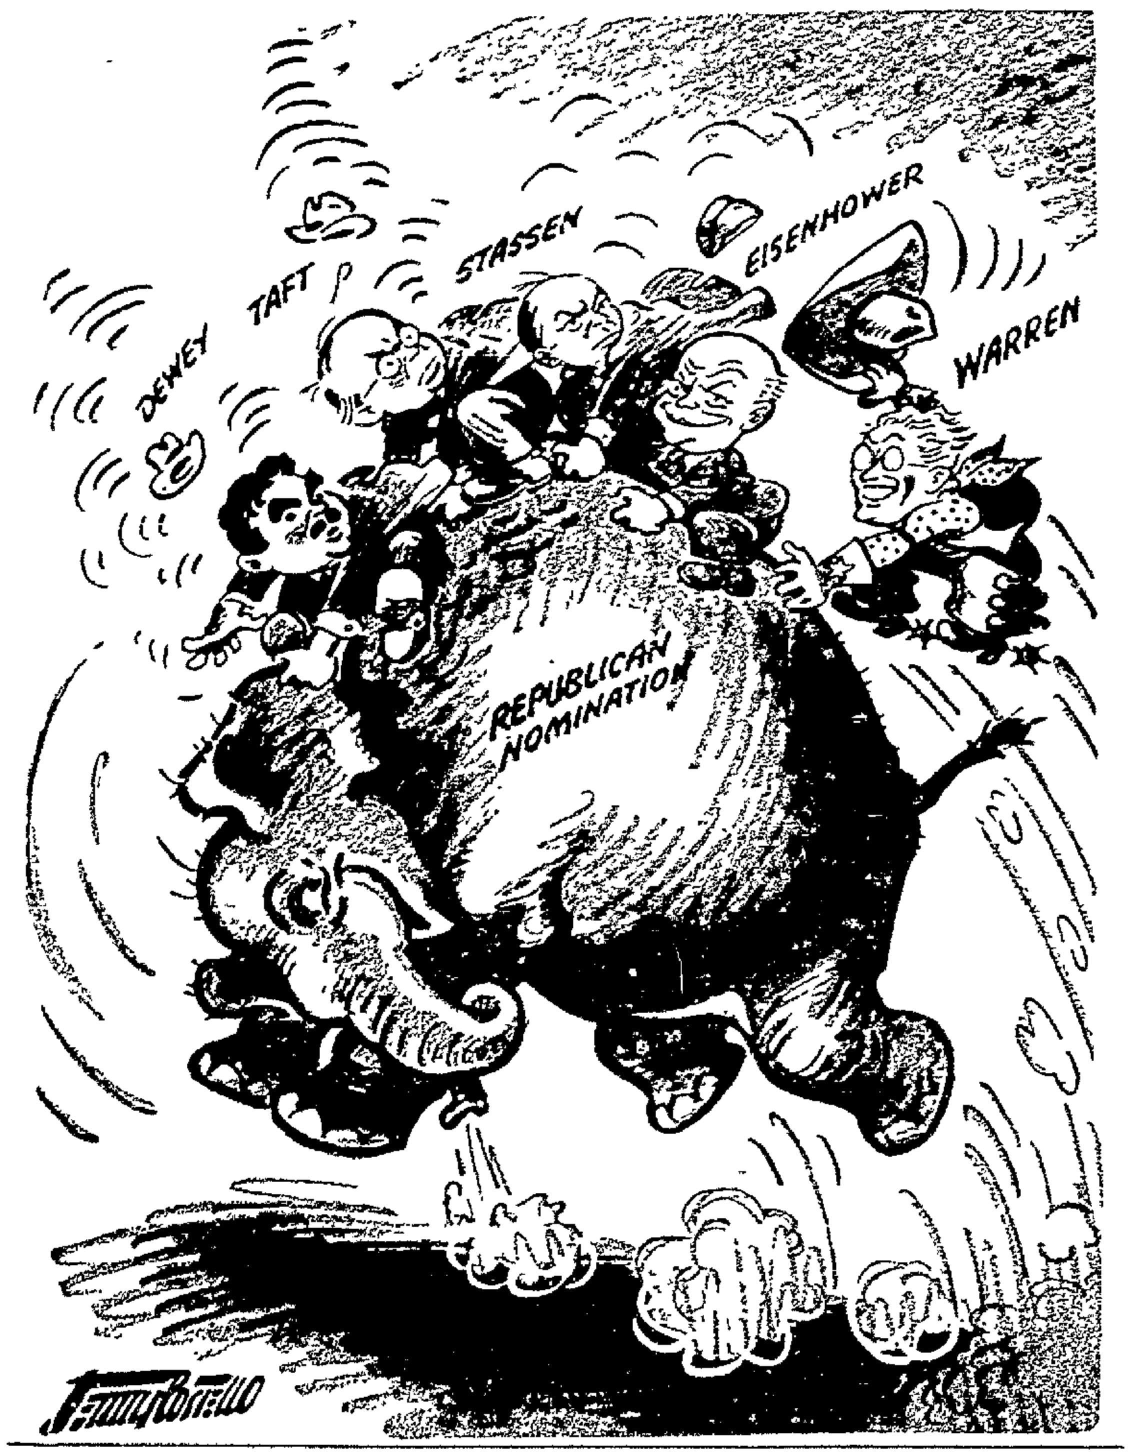
". . . he is also the committee member who can't get to meetings, the Community Chest worker who somehow never gets his cards in, the fellow who when he does get to the program planning sessions votes against the topic which might conceivably raise a few temperatures. He is the man—or woman—who either accepts any and all work assignments and then does none of them or who always claims he has 'too many other obligations' when a specific request is made. In short our complaint is against the Ohio citizen who has plenty of gusto but no guts, the person who just never gets down to giving practical service or if he does is poorly informed of the basic facts of the situation and doesn't particularly want to learn them."

The Ohio Citizen suggests that such people take a rest from social chit-chat and get to work. "Try doing a job instead of just talking about it," the publication advises."

Daily Bible Thought

If we do not want to go astray we should keep our objective in mind and in sight.—Psalm 25:15: "Mine eyes are ever toward Jehovah"

Another Rider



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Nov. 26, 1937.

The works progress administration at Washington advised Sen. Robert J. Bulkley that President Roosevelt had approved nine Ohio projects to cost more than $1,000,000, subject to approval by the general accounting office and the state WPA administrator. Included were: Hardin county $14,273 to operate sewing-rooms, Bucyrus $55,544.

A dinner at Hotel Marion given by the board of trustees of the Marion Cemetery association was a farewell party for E. N. Sloan and a reception for his brother, Donald, who was to take his place the following Monday as superintendent of the Marion cemetery. E. N. Sloan was to take over his duties as secretary and manager of th Green Lawn cemetery at Columbus.

Mrs. Roy Sager was elected president at a meeting of the Wimodausis club at the home of Mrs. Fleet Baker of Merkle avenue.

The necessity of thinking citizens of the country banding together in a united fight against communistic movement in the United States was the keynote of a patriotic address by Charles R. Barefoot, attorney of Toledo, and department commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, at the Eagles' hall. He was guest speaker for an open meeting held by Marion Camp No. 32, United Spanish War Veterans to which local and nearby patriotic groups were invited.

Mrs. Thelma Augenstein entertained members of her Sunday school class of Fite Memorial Baptist church, honoring Miss Hazel Layman, who was attending Bowling Green State college and who was a former teacher of the class.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Nov. 26, 1927.

Three motorcyclists were the first to be penalized in a campaign opened by Sheriff James A. Deal against reckless driving following death of another youth in a motorcycle accident near Meeker. The three were arraigned before Probate Judge L. B. McNeal and deprived of their right to operate a motor vehicle for six months.

Oscar Gast, deputy county auditor, and his father, P. M. Gast of Prospect, went to Cleveland for a visit of several days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schoenlaub of Wheeling, W. Va., arrived for a visit with Mrs. Schoenlaub's mother, Mrs. B. F. Shurz of West Church street.

Miss Beulah Lehner, student nurse at Jane Case hospital in Delaware, returned to Delaware after spending Thanksgiving weekend with her mother, Mrs. Emma Lehner of East Center street.

Miss Vandella Kelley of Prospect and Roland Baileys of Columbus were united in marriage by Dr. B. L. George at the Epworth M. E. parsonage.

Twenty pupils of the seventh grade at Pearl street school and their teacher, Miss Mae Hain, were guests at a theater party and later were entertained by Miss Alice Crow at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. French Crow, in celebration of her birthday anniversary.

Democracy's Tea Party

By Raymond Moley

IF AN enterprising reporter should ask a hundred people on the street about the nature and whereabouts of the Freedom Train, he would probably bring in a melancholy story. Maybe one or two would say the Freedom Train is the bearer of several historic documents—the names of which had slipped from memory. Two or three others would say it is carrying the grain the Marshall plan is sending to Europe. Others would say it is a preview of a new streamlined affair in which people sit on the tops of the cars, but which cannot be used until the steel shortage is over.

MOLEY

But if the same reporter should ask where Liz and Phil are spending their honeymoon and what Liz wore at the wedding, he would gather plenty of the right answers.

The sad reflections that might trouble thoughtful people because of this revelation of human nature would not be new Philosophers have long noted the failure of a government of laws to capture the imagination, while, on the other hand, interest in governments of men is so easily aroused. Walter Bagehot, a brilliant Englishman, wrote some interesting reflections on that subject 80 years ago.

"The use of the queen, in a dignified capacity, is incalculable. Without her in England, the present English government would fail and pass away. Most people when they read that the queen walked on the slopes at Windsor—that the Prince of Wales went to the Derby—have imagined that too much thought and prominence were given to little things. But they have been in error; and is it nice to trace how the actions of a retired widow and an unemployed youth become of such importance?

Reason for Strength

"The best reason why monarchy is a strong government is, that it is an intelligible government. The mass of mankind understand it, and they hardly anywhere in the world understand any other. It is often said that men are ruled by their imaginations; but it would be truer to say they are governed by the weakness of their imaginations. The nature of a constitution, the action of an assembly, the play of parties, the unseen formation of a guiding opinion, are complex facts, difficult to know, and easy to mistake. But the action of a single will, the fiat of a single mind, are easy ideas; anybody can make them out, and no one can ever forget them. When you put before the mass of mankind the question 'Will you be governed by a king, or will you be governed by a constitution?' the inquiry comes out thus—'Will you be governed in a way you understand, or will you be governed in a way you do not understand?'"

Aware of the Passing

But Bagehot, writing in 1867, knew, that for more than a century effective authority had passed from the monarchy. Britain had been ruled not by the masses, but by leaders who believed in constitutional government. Gradually, royalty had accepted its nominal authority, while real authority passed to parliament. But deep in every constitutionalist's mind was the conviction that the maintenance of an impotent royalty was the surest defense against the coming of a new dictatorship which the eternal interest of people in a man might create.

Even the Socialists came to recognize this. When the Labor party first attained power, in the 20's, a member of the cabinet said, "Every nation has need for hero worship. Our means of satisfying this need is the monarchy. It is the cheapest way to do it." Germany and Italy learned bitterly how expensive a new hero might be.

While the first Labor government was in power, George V gave a tea party for the Socialist cabinet. He noted the absence of Beatrice Webb and asked why. "Perhaps," he was told, "she does not believe in monarchy." "But," answered the quiet king, "what has that to do with my tea party?"

DETROIT, Mich. — America's automobile of tomorrow will be built to match the average American pocketbook—smaller. Walter D. Appel, chief engineer of Willys-Overland motors, maintains that the high cost of living has paved the way for the advent of a smaller, lighter car. Appel says: "The automotive industry cannot successfully continue to produce four million large cars a year at prices the average man cannot afford."

Elmer Twitchell On Present Day Football

"The college football season is on its last legs if not finished," said Elmer Twitchell today, "and I never saw one fade out with fewer regrets. The old game has been so riddled with changes that the average spectator got hopelessly behind years ago. And this season trying to keep track of all the changes made in any one team in one period left him limp and befuddled.

"I remember when you could go to a college football game and watch a contest mainly dependent on one team for each side. Today they use a dozen teams a period. They throw in so many replacements that a screwball football game has become just a clambake on a revolving floor.

"The game was founded on the idea that there should be eleven men on a team and that they should be good enough to stand the game for most of one afternoon. Subs were sent in only when a regular got hurt badly enough to need an ambulance. A football fan could master the names of these varsity men and thrill to their performances. There was a personal touch to it. He grew to have affections and enthusiasm for definite players.

"This past season he had no more chance of knowing who was playing than he would of identifying the voters in a national election.

"It was a common thing for the coaches, teams and officials to get all snarled up and allow 12 or 13 players to a side for a couple of plays There was enough confusion when a player taken out during one period could not be sent back again until a later period, but now he can get taken in and out during any period up to a point where he is so dizzy he needs a compass to maintain his sense of direction.

"I see where Lou Little and others say 'You cannot place restrictions on anything that makes for better and faster football. Anything that keeps a team at high tempo is good' Well, I think he is talking through his helmet. It would be just as ethical and sporty to remove a boxer from a fight the minute he got fagged, or send two or three different teams in a baseball game when the going got tough.

"Why not send in a relief man for a wrestler when he is pinned to the mat or pass a rule that in any golf tournament a member of the team may be taken out for a fresh player when he misses a long putt?"

Elmer was pretty disguested "I am not asking too much," he concluded. "It would just be nice if a cash customer knew once in a while who was playing and could care much."

Lunch Bucket

By Truman Twill

One of our associates in this clean (white collar) line of endeavor has been showing us his new lunch bucket, a standard model, nothing fancy—dull black, with a metal handle that lies flat when not in use. There are the usual ventilation facilities and metal clasps. We admired it, which seemed to be the idea—but wasn't.

"Naw," he said, in the well-modulated tone characteristic of white-collar workers as the halfway mark of the 20th century draws near "I didn't show you the thing because I wanted you to admire it. It's the same rig my old man carried and probably his old man before him That bucket is a symbol, see?"

No we didn't see. Pray tell.

"Look," explained our associate, giving his new bucket a contemptuous shove. "My old man he says to me, 'Bud, you grow up to be a white-collar worker and then you won't have to carry one of these things'—meaning a lunch pail. He always carried a pail, see Me, I'm carrying a bucket. But it's the same difference. Something went wrong somewhere.

"The only time my old man ever wore a white collar was on Sundays and when he dressed up for funerals He figured it was because he didn't have no, I mean any, education, see. So I'd get me some education and wouldn't have to eat my lunch out of a can. I could go to a restaurant or maybe I could go home for lunch, like a big shot But like I say, something went wrong

"Here I am, eating out of a lunch bucket. And my old man, what is he eating out of? He is eating out of a nice restaurant. He is still not wearing a white collar either, but the way it has turned out the guys who don't wear white collars eat in restaurants now and the guys who wear them eat out of lunch buckets, or maybe brief cases—or maybe out of a package in their pockets. I'm not complaining, understand, but it's interesting ain't it?"

What did he think was so special about eating in a restaurant instead of eating out of a bucket?

"The principle of the thing," he replied "That's why I said the bucket was a symbol. I eat better maybe with my cup custard, my orange and my peanut butter, baloney and jelly sandwiches than the restaurant crowd, but I always had figured when I got to wearing a white collar it would be the other way. That lunch bucket represents what high prices have done to the white-collar guys. We aren't white-collar guys after all—just gray, I guess"

We looked at his collar. It was off-white, all right.

Russia Moves German Naval Yards

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—The Russians are reconstructing Germany's largest submarine building yard, Deschimag in Bremen, which they have received as reparations, in the Black Sea port of Nikolaev, American officials report.

Dismantling of the Deschimag works is practically complete, officials said.

Equipment from the former German naval base at Wilhelmshaven, which the Russians also are receiving as reparations, reportedly is being taken to the Barents Sea near Murmansk for reassembly. Informants said each piece of equipment is being mounted on heavy timber so it can be skidded easily across ice and snow.

Your Good Health

Importance of Well-balanced Diet in Liver Disorder

THE importance of a well-balanced diet and the effects of one which starves the body of essential elements is nowhere more dramatically demonstrated than in a disease known as cirrhosis, or hardening of the liver.

Formerly almost always fatal, it was thought to be compilcation of heavy drinking. It was supposed that excessive amounts of alcohol taken by the chronic drinkers poisoned the liver, killing many of its cells which were then replaced by non-functioning scar tissues so that in the end this vital organ could perform none of its many duties.

Then it was noticed that the hard drinker tends to eat very little, and medical men began to wonder if the lack of food—not to the excess of alcohol—might be responsible for the resultant liver damage.

This one idea and the work which has resulted from it constitute one of the greatest of recent medical advances, for today, when the needed foods are supplied in large enough quanitles, life can be prolonged even for those with advanced liver cirrhosis, and early cases can be cured.

Cirrhosis of the liver causes jaundice or a greenish-yellow discoloration of the skin, due to the collection of bile plyments in the tissues. There may also be an accumulataion of fluids within the abdomen.

When such symptoms are present, the patient should be in the hospital, and in bed for at least half the day. He is allowed no alcoholic beverages and is given a diet rich in protein foods, such as meat, milk and eggs, and also containing an ample amount of starches. A few physicians also believe ample fats should be supplied. Fruits and green vegetables are given liberally. Meat is served twice daily anl milk five times a day. Yeast is also given to supply the vitamins of the B-complex.

In addition to this diet, vitamin B-1 or thiamin chloride, and concentrated liver extract are given by injection into a muscle, the liver extract twice a week, and the vitamin B-1 daily.

In those patients who have a collection of fluids in the abdomen, fluids are reduced to some extent and salt in the diet is also restricted.

If too much fluid collects within the abdomen, it is removed by puncturing the abdomen and withdrawing the fluid with a syringe. Certain mercurial-containing substances may also be employed to stimulate the action of the kidneys and get rid of excess fluid.

Of 124 cases of cirrhosis of the liver, 51 showed signs of improvemen with the diet outlined. It was found that the best response occurred when treatment was started during the first few weeks of the disease. Thus it is doubly important that this disorder be diagnosed promptly and treatment be started at once. If the treatment is conscientiously carried out in the early stages, there not only will be complete relief of the symptoms but liver cells will regenerate and the function or action of the liver may be completely restored to normal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

L. A.: Please tell me something about snoring.

Answer: Snoring is usually caused by the fact, the mouth falls open, allowing the palate to drop; then when air is brought in and out, vibration of the palate occurs.

Obstruction in the nose and throat may be responsible for snoring. An examination by a nose and throat specialist will determine this.

Cleveland Mayor Eyes Governorship Contest

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 26—Nominating petitions that would put Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland into the Democratic race for governor have been requested of the secretary of state.

Secretary Edward J. Hummel said today the request for the petitions came from Vincent Vito of Cleveland, who described himself as secretary of the Garfield Heights Democratic club.

Vita asked Hummel to mail to him nominating petitions "for our candidate for governor, Thomas A. Burke."

Hummel said he would send 100 petitions to Vito.

The petitions, when filled out with sufficient signatures, can place a candidate on the ballot in next May's primary election.

VIOLATES PAROLE

BUCYRUS, Nov. 26—Arthur E. Walter, 19, Galion was sentenced to the Ohio state reformatory when he was brought before Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl as a probation violator Tuesday. Walter, held under $300 bond after a preliminary hearing in Galion court, admitted several thefts of money in Galion as well as other breaking and entering.

PUBLIC WORKS REVIVAL URGED

Legislator Favors Spending Money Here Instead of Foreign Lands.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—The United States should spend more of its available funds on "deteriorated" public works projects at home, Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) said today, rather than "sending the money to some foreign country to develop theirs."

McGregor, who toured much of the country last summer with a house public works subcommittee, told a reporter the group found most federal projects visited, including shipyards, harbors, and flood control reclamation projects, "in pretty bad shape."

"They deteriorated because of lack of maintenance during the war," he said. "It's almost in the category of an emergency that we get them back into shape. They're certainly a major part of our defense program."

McGregor said members of the subcommittee will begin this week to draw up findings and frame recommendations for submission to congress next year.

The public works committee authorizes spending for all federal projects with the exception of the Army and Navy.

McGregor said west coast shipyards and harbors were found to be badly in need of repairs and other work. Dredging of harbors, interfered with by the war, is necessary, he said, and repairs are needed for docks and other harbor installations.

Major equipment in federal shipyards and dry docks is "just rusting away," he said, because of lack of paint and maintenance.

Funds are needed especially for midwest flood control and reclamation projects deferred because of the war, and deterioration of soil erosion programs was especially noted in the far west, he said.

Also some road programs have been held in abeyance until ste necessary for construction available.

McGregor said "it seems inconsistent to me for us to permit o own defense program to hit a lo ebb and send the money to foreign countries. The government should operate in the black and not in the red. We have only so much to spend. It's time that we took some of that money and developed and repaired our own projects."

In Memory

★Of my dear husband, George T. Hanmer, who passed away one year ago today, Nov. 26, 1946.

Beside your grave, heart-broken
Just one year ago today,
Leaving you there to sleep forever
Beneath that lonely mound of clay.
No one knows the loneliness you left,
Since a year ago;
The sorrows, tears and heartaches
That only a wife can know.
Some may forget you, George,
Now that you are gone;
But I'll always remember,
No matter how long.
Each night I'm thinking of you,
Each day I breathe your name;
On earth I loved you, George,
In death I do the same.

Your wife, Mrs. Marie Hanmer, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Venham, now of Belpre, Ohio.

TRUCK TIPS INTO SHOE STORE WINDOW

Depression in Alley Causes Mishap; Report 2 Accidents.

A truck tipped over into the Nobil Shoe Store window Tuesday afternoon in one of two accidents reported to police. Robert W. Sloan, 26, of Bellevue, reported at 2:25 p. m. he was driving north through the alley east of the store, which is on West Center street, when his truck dropped into a slight depression and tipped into a window. A broken window was the extent of the damage.

At 5:55 p. m. a car driven by Mrs. Mary K. McIntyre, 33, of 146 Uhler avenue and a car whose driver failed to give his name and address, collided at the intersection of East Center and Baker streets. The McIntyre car was traveling west in East Center street and the second car had turned into Center street from Baker when the collision happened. Front fender of the McIntyre car was damaged. The second car was later identified as owned by Leo D. Keith of 278 East Center street.

Report Bear Lurking In Area Near Chardon

By The Associated Press

CHARDON, O., Nov. 26—A bear was reported lurking in the Bass lake area near here today and farm women were said to be afraid to leave their homes at night.

Charles Mazny, a florist, said he saw the bear in the road Monday night while he was driving through the snow.

Game Warden Forrest Tuttle declared he had received several reports, but pointed out it was unlawful to shoot bears unless they were caught destroying property or killing livestock.

Recent reports from the west of Chardon were that a bear had chased foxes, bitten off the tail of one and killed two dogs.

11-YEAR PRISON FUGITIVE RETURNING TO ASK PARDON

By International News Service

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 26 —James S. Collins, the man who led a model life in Pennsylvania after escaping from an Alabama prison in 1936, was no longer a fugitive from justice today.

Alabama Gov. James E. Folsom withdrew the fugitive warrant for Collins' arrest when he learned that the Doylestown, Pa., man wanted to return to Alabama and ask for a pardon.

Collins was serving a life term for his part in a 1928 Citronelle, Ala., bank holdup, but in 1936 he escaped from Spigner prison and went to Doylestown. He became a well-respected member of the Quaker community.

Many residents of Doylestown have expressed a strong feeling that Collins should be pardoned. An Alabama prison official has stated that he could see no purpose in returning Collins to prison.

William Freed, Pennsylvania attorney acting as counsel for Collins, wrote Gov. Folsom that Collins wished to return to Alabama and seek a pardon.

YOUTH'S DOUBLE SLAYING CONFESSION FALLS APART

By The United Press

BECKLEY, W. Va., Nov. 26— The confession of James H. Richardson to the slayings of a prominent Beckley man and woman was further punctured by a visit to the scene of the crime, state police said today.

Spots pointed out by the 21-year-old Crab Orchard youth as where the shootings took place and the bodies discarded were "all wrong," authorities revealed. He was detained for further questioning, however.

Richardson still had to answer an automobile theft accusation because of a stolen car he was driving at the time of his arrest in Cincinnati. It was after he was taken into custody there for reckless driving that the young parking lot attendant and mine worker claimed he shot Mrs. Nellie Mae Rand and E. R. Bailey during an attempted "stickup."

OHIO FARM BUREAU TAKES PRICE ACTION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 26—The Ohio Farm Bureau pointed today toward a campaign to defend farmers from charges that they are responsible for high prices for food.

A resolution presented to the 29th annual convention and expected to receive unanimous adoption called upon the organization to "intensify its efforts to present correct information to non-farmers regarding farm prices and retail food prices."

"Misleading statements and comparisons are being widely circulated," the resolution said, "to convince the public that farmers are to blame.... These statements usually neglect to point out that in 1940, when farmers made up 23 per cent of the population, they received only 6 9 per cent of the nation's income.

"Even in 1947 it is estimated that farmers will constitute 18 per cent of the population but will receive only 11 per cent of the national income.... They further neglect to emphasize the fact that this year food production is setting a new all-time record of 40 per cent above the 1935-39 level."

The membership was offered a total of 115 resolutions, most of them expected to be approved with minor changes.

To be considered were resolutions opposing proposed legislative re-apportionment of the state and another attacking the proposed tax increases on cooperatives.

Allan B. Kline, president of the Iowa Farm Bureau and vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, last night asked farmers "to protect our ability to produce" by "good soil management, continuing research, constant extension of education facilities and sound economy."

"Agricultural education in the United States is the envy of the world," he continued. "The future of democracy is tied up with the future of education. No other country has put so much emphasis on it, or has so many, so excellent, and so widely distributed agricultural schools."

Kline said this country "needs desperately to level out" its business cycles because "more people will enjoy greater freedom if the value of the dollar is more stable.

"The European situation is compounded of too much money, too little production and ensuing political chaos," he went on. "The most important thing in the world, and to the world, is the success and leadership of America. The so-called Marshall plan makes sense. We can afford aggressively to support the export to Europe now of the minimum requirements to 'kick off' her recovery."

Earlier, two officials of the Ohio farm bureau—President Perry L. Green and executive Secretary Murray D. Lincoln—called on Ohio farmers to back American help to foreign lands as "an investment in the cause of peace."

YOUNG HUSBAND HELD IN WHITE SLAVE NET

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26 — The federal bureau of investigation today announced the arrest of Jerry Allen Miles, 21, of Catlettsburg, Ky., on a charge of transporting his 15-year-old wife Yvonne from Ashland, Ky., to Ironton, O., for immoral purposes. Mrs. Miles was held as a material witness.

Miles and his wife were the fifty-third and fifty-fourth persons taken into custody by the FBI since last Saturday, when agents gathered in 45 men and women at Ironton in connection with an alleged white slave ring. Others were arrested in Columbus, O; Benld, Ill., and in Missouri and California.

A. E. Ostholthoff, FBI agent in charge in Cincinnati, said Miles was charged specifically with transporting his wife across states lines last Sept. 4 for immoral purposes. He said Miles will be arraigned in Ashland, Ky, today, and that the FBI will ask bail be fixed at $10,000 for him and $5,000 for his wife as a material witness.

U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel yesterday ordered the federal grand jury to reconvene Dec. 8 to study the charges against the persons taken into custody by the FBI. It was said at the federal building that a report from the jury was expected by Dec. 18.

Assistant U.S. District Attorney William J. Dammarell announced late yesterday that U.S. commissioner Laurence M. Kimble of Portsmouth had agreed to arrangements for holding hearings here Dec. 10 for those in custody. Kimble earlier in the day said the preliminary hearings would be held in Portsmouth starting Dec. 11.

and the expectations of the future. He said 1,000 boys are expected to be added to the Scouting program next year.

Cards of membership were presented to Mitchell Rech, assistant field commissioner of senior Scouting, and Paul Rogers, neighborhood commissioner from Prospect.

The meeting was opened with a pledge of allegiance conducted by Sam Sprang and a prayer was read by Owen Meddles.

Songs were led by Herman Powelson, and Howard Robke introduced the new members.

Edward Hachten, assistant field commissioner in Cubbing, and chairman of the nomination committee, nominated Mr. Frew for reelection.

Mr. Frew closed the meeting with a summary and Charles Smith gave the benediction.

KENTON INCORPORATION

KENTON, Nov. 26 — A new firm, A. E. Robey, Inc., has been issued certificate of incorporation, the United Press reports today from Columbus. Alden E. and Clayton Robey and Ted E. Fogle are listed as incorporators. Stock is set at 500 shares at no par value; The law firm of Kaylor and Kaylor of Kenton handled the incorporation.

POST BOND AT GALION

Two Virginia drivers arrested by the state highway patrol yesterday posted bonds in Galion mayor's court on charges of driving with insufficient lights. They were Otis Gothn, 25, of Alexandria, Va., and Kenneth Mallan, 21, of Arlington, Va.

CONTROLS

and jeopardizing the United States' long term foreign trade interest.

Harriman emphasized that he did not "anticipate that under existing conditions" controls over allocation of additional materials would be as broadly exercised as they are over tin at this time.

"Controls should be limited in character and applicable only to scarce commodities," he told the committee.

Mr. Truman coupled his domestic cost of living proposals with his plea for aid to Europe in a message opening the special session of congress Nov. 17.

Taft and Millikin, in separate interviews, said flatly there is no chance for immediate approval of restored price and rationing authority—but that less controversial items in Mr. Truman's program may win quick passage.

These May Win

Taft, chairman of the senate Republican policy committee, listed possible approval of:

▶ Export controls.

▶ Resumption of consumer credit controls, and ▶ Federal regulation of speculation in grains and other commodities.

Extension of rent controls, he said, is up to the committees.

Millikin, chairman of the Republican conference which includes all members of the senate majority, was less specific. He said only that the 'least controversial" proposals may go through, adding:

"It will be some other than price controls and rationing."

As for rent controls, Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) of the house banking committee said the chances for continuing these beyond the Feb. 29 expiration "are good." Mr. Truman asked congress both to "extend and strengthen" rent controls."

Senators Taylor (D-Idaho) and Buck (R-Del) disclosed, meanwhile, they are considering the idea of having the government pay subsidies to landlords in lieu of further rent increases. Neither senator has worked out the deals.

Smith Shouts "Socialism"

During his testimony before Wolcott's committee in support of the President's program, Chapman said the government, in addition to power to ration gasoline and, impose price ceilings on oil and coal, also should have authority to allocate coal and steel. This would permit the government to say which industrial users could have how much of the allocated products.

Chapman said he hopes the controls will not be needed, that voluntary efforts might do the job. But he said there are dangers in the fuel situation.

"You are proposing socialism," Rep. Smith shouted, adding that the administration is "deliberately trying to mislead the people" on this country's productive capacity in an effort to justify long range economic aid for Europe.

"I think people will be cold this winter if something isn't done," Chapman responded.

He said the oil industry and the government now are working out a voluntary conservation program.

Chapman appeared after Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had disclosed plans for a government bond sale drive, requested restoration of consumer credit controls, including those over installment buying, and threw more cold water on prospects for any quick across-the-board income tax reduction.

Snyder advocated a "pay as go you" program for foreign aid, saying this aid should be paid for and payments made on the debt before taxes are cut.

Taft described proposals yesterday by Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board for tightening controls over bank credits as "very interesting."

Eccles, asserting he did not speak for the administration but only for the reserve board, suggested that all banks be required to maintain additional reserves in government securities or cash.

"POWER" IN ITALY. Secretary of the Italian Socialist Party, Lelio Basso speaks from Rome to a radio audience during the Communist campaign of riots and local strikes. Palestine Decision Before UN Today

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—The plan to partition Palestine — evolved through Russian-American cooperation — goes before the United Nations assembly today for final decision with its supporters needing at least one more vote to assure adoption.

The Holy Land issue is the last one before the 1947 assembly, and the 57-nation body will adjourn immediately after the final ballot.

An inconclusive test vote yesterday in the assembly's 57-nation Palestine committee left the contest undecided and sent supporters and opponents of the plan into the corridors seeking votes. Needing only a simple majority for semi-final approval in committee, the proposal to cut up the Holy Land into independent Jewish and Arab nations passed the committee by 22 to 13.

LANDMARK BURNS

BUCYRUS, Nov. 26—Transients seeking shelter from the cold were responsible for the fire which partially destroyed the old Dostal Brewery building on Norton Way, Monday night and early Tuesday. No estimate of the damage to the unused building which is an early Bucyrus landmark, could be secured.

REV. HOLDRIDGE'S TOPIC

For Sunday morning worship services at the Magnetic Springs and Pharisburg Methodist churches, Rev. Hiram Holdridge, pastor, will preach on "The Master's Joy." There will be no Youth Fellowship service because of Springfield district booth festival at Raymond Sunday afternoon and evening, it was announced.

described as a "joint venture," and made after the first letters of the names of his children: Arnold, Ila, Jr., and Damon.

Meyers invested $75,000 in the aid account. Bleriot H. Lamarre, $51.50 a week president of the Aviation Electric Corp., testified he put up $20,000 of this amount was to draw 10 per cent interest.

The bank loaned $2,035,135.32 to the aid account Feb. 15, 1946, and Meyers, with the $75,000, purchased $2,110,135 32 in bonds. His note to the bank was renewed several times and last Aug. 8 the committee aide said, Meyers owed a balance of $2,000,000 and the bank held the bonds as security.

$50,000 Joint Account

The joint account with Meyers' wife was started in June, 1944, with $50,000. Half of this, the committee records show, came from Meyers' wife and the remainder from Robert Cuse, Jersey City, N. J., and owner of the Vimalert Co. there.

Cuse testified he loaned $25,000 to Meyers and that two weeks later his firm was awarded its first Air Forces contract, for $500,000.

Meyers used his joint account at that time to purchase $2,050,000 in bonds, borrowing $2,000,000 from the bank.

On Jan. 15, 1945, Meyers put up an additional $10,000 and purchased another $1,000,000 in bonds. He sold $2,000,000 worth in August of 1945 and in September purchased $500,000 worth.

Other transactions included a $500,000 purchase in October, 1945, and a purchase of $1,500,000 and sale of $1,000,000 in the following month. He sold $500,000 worth in September, 1945 and amounted to $1,980,000 as of last Sept. 17.

Another staff member of the committee described Meyers' dealings as "legitimate, although frowned upon by the treasury."

The general testified all transactions were handled for him by investment broker, whom he identified as a former brother-in-law. Jonn R. Brownell, Dayton, O., Meyers said he was acquainted with the president and vice president of the Cleveland Trust Co.

Not Unusual, Says Bank Head

At Cleveland, George Gund, Case Trust Co. president, made this statement in reference to Gen. Meyers' borrowing:

"We received very satisfactory recommendations concerning Meyers, following the usual procedure in dealing with prospective borrowers. From a banking standpoint, there was nothing unusual about the transaction and it went through our regular channels."

MORROW CO. GRAND JURY INDICTS FOUR

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Nov. 26 — The Morrow county grand jury late Tuesday returned indictments in four cases and ignored four others. Indictments included two for robbery, one for forgery and one for assault with a deadly weapon.

Braden Bennett, 39, and Truman Snyder, 50, both of near Ashley were indicted for the robbery last Friday of a general store and filling station in nearby Westfield. They were captured by the state highway patrol and the Delaware county sheriff Earl Fravel early Saturday and bound over that day under $1,500 bond by Mt. Gilead Mayor Ray Booher. Both men are being held in Morrow county jail.

Others indicted were Ben Halloway, 36, of Indianapolis, arrested Sept. 10, and charged with forgery after allegedly uttering bogus checks in Mt. Gilead and Ellis Richendollar, 61, of Fulton who was arrested July 1 after allegedly stabbing a Mt. Gilead resident with a penknife. The former is being held in Morrow county jail while the latter is free on bonds.

Date of arraignment has not been set by Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford.

AID BILL

called the $597,000,000 amount "too high," made it plain that he is reserving his decision on the long-range Marshall plan for European economic recovery. President Truman is expected to submit this plan in detail within the next few days.

Secretary of State Marshall has estimated it will cost between $16,000,000,000 and $20,000,000,000 over the next four years Sixteen western European countries would take part in the self-help recovery drive to follow the stop-gap assistance for France, Italy and Austria.

Marshall said a total of $300,000,000 also might be asked to help China during the 15 months beginning next April.

Republican policy on the whole aid problem will be gone over at a meeting of the house G.O.P. committee called by Speaker Martin for Monday.

Before the senate could act finally, it had before it a series of amendments offered by Senator Donnell (R-Mo).

SHUTS OUT REDS — France's new premier, Robert Schuman, talks to the press in Paris. The 61-year-old Popular Republican movement leader has ignored the Communists by naming six members of his own party, five of the Socialist party's right wing, three middle-of-the-road Radical Socialists and one moderate Independent Republican to his cabinet.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

STORE FIRE IN WHICH 41 DIED — Firemen pour streams of water into Ballantyne's department store in Christchurch, New Zealand, as flames shoot skyward at the height of a tragic fire which took at least 41 lives, and estimated damage of $1,600,000.

Smart Bargainer Saves Denver a Neat $16,400

By The United Press

DENVER—W F Henninger, commissioner of supplies, saved the city $16,400.

Henninger negotiated with the War Assets Administration for 20,000 feet of fire hose and got it for 18 cents a foot. The old price for such hose was $1 a foot.

Before Henninger started negotiating with the WAA, Denver fire department officials had slashed their budget to include only 10,000 feet of hose. Through Henninger's work they got 20,000 feet they sorely needed and saved enough money to pay the officials' salary for the next six years.

Cotton Bales Damaged By Fire in Erie Yards

Marion firemen worked for about 2½ hours last night to put out a fire in a car load of baled cotton outside the manifest office of the Erie Railroad last night. Cause of the fire and extent of the damage was undetermined.

Firemen were called to the scene at 9:38 p m. They had to pull out 55 of the 104 bales of cotton in the car to stop the fire. Individual bales weighed from 500 to 1,000 pounds. Fire damaged about one third of the bales and water damaged the others, Fire Chief Sifritt said.

DAIRY STRIKE ENDS IN TOLEDO PLANTS

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O, Nov 26—Milk only by doctor's prescription was a thing of the past today in this city of 280,000 as dairy workers agreed to end their citywide strike in return for 15-cent-an-hour pay increases.

Workers last night ratified an agreement already made by management and AFL union officials, and Franz Berlacher, head of the Milk Workers local, predicted "normal deliveries" in a day or so.

During the strike, which began Saturday, the dairies delivered milk only to hospitals and institutions, and sold milk over the counter at two plants on doctor's prescriptions.

The union originally struck for a 25-cent hourly increase, and management countered with an offer of 12½ cents.

LEGION PROGRAM ON AMERICANISM

Columbus Man Talks at Meeting of Bird-McGinnis Post.

An Americanism program with Marvin W. Scott of Columbus, chairman of the Americanism committee, department of Ohio, American Legion, as guest speaker, was presented when Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, met Tuesday night in the Dugout. Mr. Scott is a member of Franklin Post No. 1 of Columbus.

D J MacDonald, district vice commander of the Sixth district, reported on activities in the district stressing the membership. He stated that the district is now in second place in percentage of 1948 membership in the entire department of Ohio, and told the post that an award to the post in first place will be $100 which is called a Pearl Harbor prize.

A past commander badge and pin were presented to Earl L. West by J. W. Llewellyn, a past commander of the post and the first county Legion commander. Mrs. West, who was also present, was recognized by Mr Llewellyn in his brief presentation ceremony.

Newton Cunningham, first vice commander, gave the details on the membership drive contest which got under way yesterday to end Dec. 31. Two teams have been named and will be headed by John V. Roth and Norval V. Foreman.

A report was given by J. Albert Dupps of a recent trip made by a number of Legionnaires in the 40 et 8 boxcar and locomotive to the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans home at Xenia. He told of an inspection tour of the grounds. Don Marquis also gave a brief talk on the trip and suggested to the members that each one send small Christmas gifts to the boys and girls at the home. Mr. Marquis, who is also chairman of the bowling team, reported on the activities of the teams.

At the close of the meeting, a moving picture showing activities of New York American Legion convention was shown.

Memorial Service Held By Knights of Columbus

The annual memorial service was held and plans forwarded for the initiation of a class of candidates on Sunday, Dec. 7, at a meeting of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night. Anthony Behler, district deputy of Cincinnati, was the guest speaker. Robert Axe delivered a eulogy for A. L. Birk, a member whose death occurred during the last year.

The members will attend mass and receive communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass on Dec 7 and at 1 30 p m the major degrees will be conferred on a class at the Eagles' hall. The class will be named in honor of Thomas E. Andrews, state deputy and a member of the local council. A banquet will be held at 6 o'clock in Moose hall. The first degree will be conferred on Saturday night, Dec 6 in the Knights of Columbus hall. Robert Gatster is chairman of the committee in charge of tickets for the banquet.

"Walcott Not Most Worthy Opponent," Admits Louis

Heavyweight Champ in Tip Top Shape for Title Defense Dec. 5

By GAYLE TALBOT

Associated Press Sports Writer

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Nov. 26—Joe Louis is making no serious effort to drum up business for his title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott next week at Madison Square Garden. Sometimes Joe seems almost too honest for his own good.

"No," the champion said after deep reflection, "I don't think he (Walcott) is the most worthy contender. I think there's a couple of others maybe just as worthy as he is. But I think if there had to be a championship fight, then Walcott has just as much right to it as the others."

That was the extent of Joe's expressed enthusiasm for the man against whom he will make his 24th title defense. Still, he didn't say in so many words that Walcott is a cinch.

Plans Counter Punches

"I think he plans to do a lot of counter punching against me," Joe volunteered. "That's what he likes to do—what I saw of him in a fight on the coast last summer. I'll carry the fight to him hard, and he won't get to do much counter punching.

Louis looks wonderful in training. There is no other word for it. This observer, for one, is prepared to believe that the Tan Bomber, at 33, is as great a fighter as he ever was—maybe even better.

Joe weighs 214 now, only four pounds above the peg he expects to hit at the weigh-in next week. Since he began training he has boxed 65 rounds and run approximately 300 miles on the road. He looks trim and hard, and his reflexes inside the ring are instant and murderous.

"I'm in lots better shape than I was for Conn and Mauriello last summer," he said.

Louis Trains Hard

Harry Mendel, who is promoter Mike Jacobs' representative at the camp, says Louis is the hardest trainer he has ever seen, bar none.

"He's up at six and on that road every morning," he marveled. "Lot of fighters, when they look out and see it's raining, they say to themselves, great, and dive back under the sheet."

Joe still is something to see in the ring, even when he's just soft-shoeing around and shadow boxing and getting ready for the boxing. It seems safe to say that no other modern athlete approaches him in sheer grace.

That is why the garden will be sold out at $30 tops a week from Friday night, although few expect Walcott to last more than four or five rounds.

"It's worth whatever you pay to watch Joe Louis fight," was the way one ticket buyer stated it.

Battle Royal For Thanksgiving Day

A fine battle royal has been signed for the holiday of Thanksgiving. Five wrestlers have been signed who will give plenty of action for this "special day." They are Paul Orth, who has been winning for the past five weeks, Gentleman Dale Haddock of Wayne, Mich., Rex Mobley, the southern grappler, Frankie Clemons, the Indian boy from Battle Creek, and a new wrestler from Montreal, Canada, Bill Murray. Orth and Murray will likely be the favorite as these two will be the cleanest boys to take part in the "mat massacre."

The first two to lose will return for the 45-minute semi-final, two out of three falls and the last two left in the ring return for the two-hour main event.

Billy Wilson and Junior Fix will open the show at 8:30 with a 10-minute prelim. Call Markert and Lewis early for your best seats.—Adv.

No Confusing Advice For Challenger Joe

By The Associated Press

GRENLOCH, N. J., Nov. 26—Just like a football team on the eve of the big game Jersey Joe Walcott has gone into seclusion for his Dec. 5 title bout with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

From now until he breaks camp at this hamlet on the Black Horse pike, some 20 miles from Philadelphia, Joe's advisors plan to keep him inaccessible to reporters for interviews.

The theory back of this maneuver, explained Joe Webster, Walcott's manager, is "we want Joe to fight Louis according to the plan we have devised. We want to avoid the well-meant, but confusing advice he sometimes receives. Everyone is welcome to watch Walcott's public workouts, but no more interviews."

BARTELL TO MANAGE KANSAS CITY BLUES

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 25—Richard (Dick) Bartell, former major league infielder and last year pilot of the Sacramento club in the Pacific Coast league, has been signed to manage the Kansas City Blues of the American Association.

The announcement was made today by Lee McPhail, general manager of the Blues, shortly after Bartell obtained his release from Sacramento. He succeeds Bill Meyer, who resigned to become manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National league.

Bartell began his managerial career last year after 18 years in the majors.

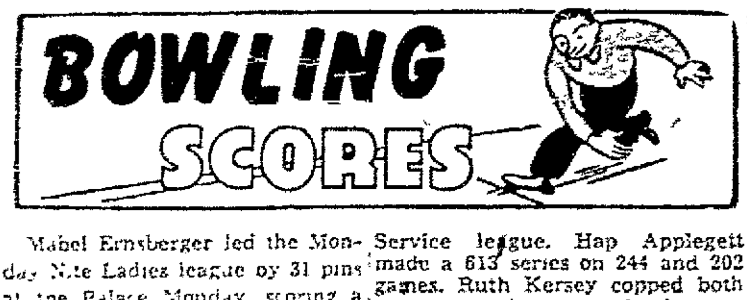
IT'S HAPPY SMILES all around as President Bill Veeck (left) of the Cleveland Indians wishes his manager and star shortstop luck after Lou Boudreau had signed a two-year player-manager contract in Cleveland. Boudreau is expected to have been given an increase. His 1946 pay was reported around $35,000.



Mabel Ernsberger led the Monday Nite Ladies league by 31 pins at the Palace Monday, scoring a 501 series and a 201 game. Next highest series was a 468 turned in by Dot Rhinehart. In that high-scoring league, a 31-point lead is something. In all 27 ladies beat 150 games and four beat 450 series.

High scores were the order of the day in another league bowling at the Palace—the Ohio Public Service league. Hap Applegett made a 613 series on 244 and 202 games. Ruth Kersey copped both honors in the women's devision with a 432 series and a 162 game. Other high bowlers were Leroy Clauer, 214, Bud Yinger, 213, and John Humphreys, 200.

Roy Snyder led in the Home bowling league at the Marion Rec Monday. He got a 234 game and a 564 series.

Cleveland O.S.U. Alums Back Fesler to a Man

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26—Cleveland's Ohio State university alumni club today was solidly lined up in back of football Coach Wes Fesler, whose first Buckeye team finished last in the Big Nine and won only two games.

"We are behind you to a man," the alumni club told Fesler last night during its annual banquet.

Fesler told 5000 Alumni and guests that "we want good football and we are going to have good football at Ohio State."

"Don't make the mistake of thinking we are de-emphasizing football at Ohio State," Fesler added. "What we are doing is emphasizing the things more important than football."

Pete Perini, the punting mainstay, was awarded the Cleveland Press trophy as the team's most valuable player.

"I See Navy Beating Army" Reports Crystal Ball Gazer

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—A double dose of football forecasting—and here's hoping that none of the predicted favorites stumbles over a wishbone tomorrow or gets caught in a snow drift on Saturday.

Top game of the lengthened weekend is Saturday's contest at Philadelphia involving Army and Navy.

In contrast to recent years years, Army comes up to its climax game with several defeats on its record. And as usual, Navy shows up with setbacks outnumbering victories.

Picks Middies

Barnacles have grown as big as waffles since the Midshipmen last defeated the Cadets, a trick this forecaster thinks they will accomplish before President Truman on Saurday.

Virually the same Navy team that lost to Blanchard, Davis, Tucker & Co., by a margain of only three points last year is back for this fray. Only three starters of the Army outfit are back. That's reason enough.

And don't let Navy's record of one victory, one tie and six defeats trip you. The Midshipmen played the tougher schedule while the Cadets built up a record of four wins, two ties and two defeats.

Other Predictions

Cornell—Penn: A Turkey day feature that means everything to Cornell but means only another triumph for the unbeaten Quakers. Penn.

Texas-Texas A. & M.: The Aggies will have their "twelfth man" as their guest for this Thursday affair. They will need him but Bobby Layne and Dick Harris won't even know he is there. Texas.

Mississippi - Mississippi State: Ole Miss has climbed to the top of the Southeastern conference ladder on the battery of Charlie Conerly and Barney Poole. On Saturday Harper Davis and Shorty McWilliams will pull them down. Mississippi State.

Georgia-Georgia Tech: A year ago Charley Trippi personally administered a beating to the Tech youngsters. He is an alumnus now and all of Tech's cripples will be healed by Saturday. Georgia Tech.

Texas Christian-Southern Methodist: The Mustangs want to carry an unbeaten record into the Cotton bowl. Doak Walker, after a rugged Saurday afternoon, will help them do it. Southern Methodist.

Holy Cross-Boston College: The Crusaders have never lost to the Eagles in the years Dr. Grosa was a coach or assistant coach at the Cross. He ends 20 years of grid teaching on Saturday with his record intact. Holy Cross.

Thursday

Rutgers over Brown, St. Louis over Duquesne, Utah over Utah State, Virginia Tech over Virginia Military, Wake Forest over South Carolina, Western Reserve over Case, William and Mary over Richmond.

Friday: Alabama over Miami (Fla.)

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

AP Sportswriter

GRENLOCH, N. J., Nov. 26—The boarded-up amusement park at Grenloch probably never will be remembered as one of those famous fight camps whose fame comes down through the years. It's a collection of small, white-painted buildings on a hilltop overlooking a pond where the young folks of Camden come to swim in summertime. One barn-like building heated by a couple of coal stoves is where a ring has been set up so that Jersey Joe Walcott can prepare to tangle with Joe Louis for the world heavyweight championship next month. Another small, barely furnished house is Joe's living quarters. Compared to Louis' training camp at Pompton Lakes, the place looks as if Walcott was practicing an austerity program. Maybe its symbolic of the fact that Walcott is what they call a "hungry" fighter—a guy who never had much and who is eager to earn wealth and security for himself and his family.

ENROUTE to this windswept spot, a group of boxing experts were recalling old-time training camps and the incidents that made them memorable . . There was Max Schmeling's camp at Speculator, N. Y., where some one started a rumor that a ferocious panther had been seen leaping from tree to tree around the hotel in that Adirondack village. The yarn drove one Broadwayite right out of town and back to his beloved pavements. Then there was Conneaut Lake, Pa., during prohibition days when a rumored raid by revenooers had every one in a dither and where the scribes became involved in a morticians' convention with hilarious results.

"The best camp of all" insisted Francis Albertanti, who is handling publicity for Walcott, "was in Miami that time the advance sales were so bad they cooked up an 'attempted assassination' of Jack Dempsey." "Yeah," a scribe agreed, "I remember those triangular bulletholes. But what was so remarkable about that" . . Francis replied: "Why, I got on a train to go down there with only $11 in my pocket. I hit Miami wearing an overcoat, a derby hat and long winter underwear. I stayed there six weeks and when I got back to New York I still had the $11."

WINTER GOLF STARTS WITH ORLANDO OPEN

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 26—The $10,000 Orlando, Fla., Open at the Dubsdread Country club Dec. 4-7, will launch the official winter golf tour of 18 tournaments carrying a total purse of $180,000.

The schedule was announced today by Ed Dudley, P.G.A. president. Only tentative event on the winter chart is the Columbia, S. C. Open which is listed for April 1-4, Dudley said.

The remainder of the 1948 tournament circuit of 38 meets will be announced later. Total cash distribution during the season will be $350,000, about $42,000 more than in 1947.

With the start of the winter tour, Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., is leading the pros in the race for the Vardon trophy. The award is given to the player having the lowest par-round average for the year. The trophy was last offered in 1942 and was won by Hogan.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

THE dispute over government controls of prices, wages and rationing runs deep, right into your backbone.

President Truman a week ago asked congress for power to put back some rationing, price and wage controls when, and if, he thinks they're needed.

The OPA law, which gave government such controls, was killed a year ago. Senator Taft, Ohio Republican, was a prime force in wanting OPA controls killed.

Now Senator Taft—meanwhile he's become a presidential candidate and a Republican leader of the senate—says to Mr. Truman "no." Why?

MARLOW

He says giving the government such power in peacetime means a "planned economy." The phrase is a key in the dispute.

For most of its history this country had a fairly free economy, called free enterprise, with pretty light government controls on business.

(Nevertheless, back in the last century congress voted controls, through anti-trust laws, over the growth of big corporations.)

But in the early days the American pioneers were pretty self-sufficient. They grew or shot their own food and made their own clothes.

America couldn't remain that way, that simple. It became more complex. The population grew and cities increased in size.

The city people grew increasingly dependent upon the country people for food. The country depended upon city folks for things they needed.

In short, no one was self-sufficient any more and everyone began to depend more and more upon everyone else. All America inter-locked.

If farmers charged higher prices for the food they grew, the cost of living in cities grew. City people then demanded and got higher wages.

This in turn increased the price of the things which the city people made and the farm people had to buy. It was a circle, and vicious.

THROUGH THE YEARS government controls over this interlocking economy, such as on railroads, increased.

But there were no government controls over the basic things like prices and wages.

The whole theory was competition. Or, the more things you made, and the cheaper you made them, the more you'd sell.

This in turn would force your competitors to make better and cheaper things. And everyone was competing for buyers.

This free economy system took a frightful nose-dive in 1929 and the nation plunged into its worst depression. The free economy system failed.

Was it a complete failure? Would we have to scrap the free economy system? Would we have to get some other system? Not necessarily.

President Roosevelt came along with his New Deal administration and put some controls over free enterprise. For example.

The securities and exchange commission to control stock market deals: A 40-hour week so more people would have jobs; social security; and so on.

BUT, UNTIL GOODS BECAME critically scarce in wartime, there was no attempt to control prices and wages. The free economy still was left free.

War came. With it came price and wage controls, voted by congress, because of the fear people would kick up prices by bidding for scarce goods.

With the war over, congress killed OPA. Why? Businessmen complained they could not produce while price controls deprived them of a fair price.

And labor didn't want the government telling workers how much of a wage increase they could demand, and get, in peacetime.

Since OPA was knocked out, prices have soared. Living costs have risen 23 per cent in a year, or a total of 66 per cent since August 1939.

And they're still rising. Where will they stop? No one knows.

Should the government step in now—with the nation more interlocked and interdependent than it's ever been—and restore price and wage controls?

NO, SAYS SENATOR TAFT. He says that would mean a "controlled economy."

Prices may come down and settle down without any government interference at all.

But suppose prices keep on soaring into a crazy inflation—we have a big inflation now—and the whole country crashes into depression. What then?

In short, there's one question divided into two parts:

1. Can this country—vastly complex now—go on indefinitely under its free enterprise system, with no control over prices and wages, trusting that everything will balance out right and there'll be no crash?

2. Or—if only for this dangerous period when prices are rising—do we decide the whole system now is too complex to trust to chance and that we must have some price and wage controls?

But, if we do that, are we admitting the free enterprise system only works for spells and can't work all the time?

If it can't work all the time, what system will? Permanent government controls over prices and wages means something different from what we've had.

Sunday morning worship will be advent service, with Rev. Dobberstein preaching on "Christians, It Is High Time To Wake Up!" At 2 30 p. m. Sunday, first Christmas rehearsal will be held. The following Wednesday, the Katherine Luther Guild will meet. Mrs. Ray Stiffler will be hostess, assisted by Mrs Clifford Stiffler. Mrs John Guthrie will present the topic, "Service in the Name of the Christ Child." Christmas meeting of the Junior Mission band has been set for Saturday afternoon, Dec 6.

THAWS OUT WITH HIS RESCUER Saved from freezing by two dogs, whose warm fur protected him when he lost his way in the woods, little Stephen Andrews, 4, Hermanville, Md., shows how he snuggled up to his collie pup, "Snowball." A posse of more than 200 spent a night searching for the boy who was found crying loudly. "I want my mama."

Marion Soldier Calls Parents from Korea

Pvt. Paul E. Blinn, stationed at Seoul, Korea, called his parents, Mr. and Mrs Alva C. Blinn of 131 Waterloo street, Saturday, Nov 22. The purpose of Pvt. Blinn's call, which was put through at 1 a. m., was to tell his parents he wouldn't be home for the holidays and to wish them a Merry Christmas. The family was notified a week previous that a call was to be put through on Saturday. Pvt. Blinn enlisted for overseas duty Oct. 6 1945. He was home on a furlough in February, 1946, and has been in Korea since March, 1946. He expectes to arrive home in March of next year.

Capital Capers

By Frederick Othm

WASHINGTON

COME with me, brave friends, to never-never land, where the more money you've got the less you have. And vice-versa. And the only way to be prosperous is get rid of the extra cash. Don't spend it. Set a match to it.

I hope Marriner S. Eccles, the good gray chairman of the federal reserve board, won't be sore about this. But I didn't understand him any better than some of the puzzled congressmen on the joint economic committee.

The lawmakers called him in to learn what they could do about the inflation that's plaguing us all. Eccles hooked his tortoise shell glasses over his ears and said first we had to know what caused it.

OTHMAN

He said—and I know I heard him right—that the more money the government borrows, the more money the taxpayers have to spend. This sends up prices. And if the government will pay the money it borrowed from the banks, there will be less money for the rest of us. Thus lowering prices.

Kindly do not ask me why. Address your enquiries to Chairman Eccles, who has made a study of these esoteric matters. The more he studies 'em, the gloomier he gets. Something, says he, has got to be done before business goes boom and we're selling apples to each other. Anybody who thinks differently, he adds, isn't only blind, but also foolish.

ECCLES SAT THERE IN a big leather chair, at lease, spelling off for the senators and representatives all the unpleasant things he believes we should do to keep American dollars from turning into Jap yen.

First off, he said, the revenuers have got to collect the biggest possible income taxes, so the people won't have so much money in their pockets. Then the government must use the taxes to pay off its debts, so there won't be so much money to go into the pockets.

And finally—keep with me, all ye who don't understand money with extra zeros on it—Eccles said.

1. We've all got to work harder and longer to produce more stuff.

2. We must be prohibited from hitting the boss for a raise in pay.

3. The agriculture department should quit slipping billions to farmers to hold up the price of food.

4. The treasury must high pressure us into buying more savings bonds.

5. Bank credits must be restricted and the government has got to quit guaranteeing mortgages on houses that sell for twice what they ought to.

SEN. ROBERT A. TAFT of Ohio, the chairman, wasn't so sure that banks were loaning too much money. Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vt., wondered about getting tough with housing loans.

Eccles said easy money for high priced houses was about the worst piece of inflation we have. He said the government must take responsibility for a large part of this lending spree. Too many people, he added, are buying too many houses with nothing down and $80 a month for the next 30 years.

"You're evidently not living with your mother-in-law," re Sen. Flanders.

"No," snapped Eccles. "An fellow who gets slapped w foreclosure may have to go to living with her."

He said we might as wel kid ourselves. We can't hav employment and low prices. Not unless the government lates everything.

Sen. Flanders said that sou discouraging. Eccles said it w as discouraging as the prospe letting the boom run its co And if I thought it would I'd light my cigar with a d bill if I had (1) a cigar an a dollar bill.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

TOMORROW is Thanksgiving, and by nightfall

people who started the day out as trimly neat
as this line

will be bulging all over the landscape, stuffed like a sofa with turkey, and oyster dressing, and mince pie, and cranberry sauce and ice cream and cake, and sighing back and forth to one another: "Now why did you go and let me make a pig out of myself like that? I declare, I don't think I'll ever be able to get myself back into shape again. Much as I hate the thought I think I'll have to go on a diet."

BOYLE

Some people will go to church, and others who have been patting themselves on the back all year will get around to giving the Lord some credit, too.

Little children will skip and play, skip and play, and rub their hair in the dirt and mess up each other's angelic features with energetic small fists. The dog will muzzle a bonus or bones, and end up too lazy even to chase the cat up a tree.

Someone will turn on the radio, and everybody will start talking at once, so loud you can't hear the music. And then somebody will say, "Gee, remember the time Cousin Joe almost swallowed the wishbone." And they'll laugh and cry a little maybe, for Cousin Joe, whose address now is a white cross not far from Liege. But a Belgian girl keeps flowers on his grave. "Yes, heres' her picture. We got to be sure to send her a Christmas package real soon. It takes weeks to get there."

And grandpa, fresh from a pantry nip, starts talking about how easy life is compared to when he was a boy, and the young folks shake their heads and say, "My he's showing his years."

Sometime after dark the children start crying, and everybody says, "My, it's time to go home. How did it get so late?"

Years and years from now, when time has ironed out 1947's troubles, someone will look back yearningly and say, "It was the last time we were all together. Wasn't that a wonderful Thanksgiving? Remember . . . ?"

THANKSGIVING THEME MARKS CLASS PROGRAM

Thanksgiving was theme for a program when the Senior Bible classes of Emanuel Lutheran church met last week in the church parlors. Devotions were by Mr. John Jenner, piano numbers were by Mrs Gerald Jennings, and a group of high school girls sang. Readings were by Miss Matilda Laucher and Mrs. Mary Fetter. Officers elected include Floyd Wertz, president; Urton Anderson, vice president; Mrs Henry Dawson, secretary, and Mrs. Claude McClaskey, assistant; and Otto Ricker, treasurer. The next meeting will be a Christmas party, potluck supper and gift exchange for members and their families. A social hour was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ricker, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wertz, Mr. and Mrs. C N. Sautter, Mrs. Mary Fetter and Mrs. Sophia Leffler.

Emma Berger Bible Class Elects Officers

Officers for the new year were elected when the Emma Berger Bible class of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church met Thursday night with Mrs. J. E. Bonen on Windsor street.

Mrs. Myrtle Wood was elected president, Mrs. Bertha Epley, vice president, Mrs. Helen Hedge, secretary, and Mrs. Edna Zachman, librarian. Forty members responded to roll call, devotions were conducted by Mrs. E. Tittlebaugh, and choruses were sung by the group.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs E. Tittlebaugh, Mrs. Mary Dutt, Mrs Grace Cyders, Mrs Minerva Stull, Mrs. Elmer Harruff, Mrs O J. Quaintance and Mrs. H. W. Zachman. The next meeting will be Dec. 18 with Mrs. R. R. Fox of St. James street.

Green Camp Panthers Defeated by Prospect

GREEN CAMP, Nov. 26 — The Green Camp Panthers lost the opening game in the county schedule to Prospect on the Green Camp floor, 40-33, last night. At half time the score stood Prospect 16, Green Camp 14.

The Panthers inability to stop Long, center for Prospect, was the principal reason for defeat. Long racked up five field goals in the second half and made good on three out of four free throws. He was held to five points in the first half. Weston was high point man for the Panthers with 14.

The Panther Reserves snowed the Prospect Reserves, 36-14, in the opening tilt. Joe Criswell led the way for Green Camp scoring 6 points. Carr was high for Prospect with 6.

PIRATES, DODGERS IN DEAL

By International News Service

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26—Frank (Trader Horn) McKinney, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Branch Rickey, baseball's David Harum and head of the Brooklyn Dodgers, have another deal on the fire. Just whom it may involve is anybody's guess, but both admit it may be almost anybody, including the Dodgers' Dixie Walker.

Kirkpatrick Edges Martel Cagers, 34-33

A field goal by Carl Hildreth in the final seconds of the game allowed the Kirkpatrick High school quintet to squeeze by Martel 34-33 in their county loop opener at Kirkpatrick Tuesday night.

Center Dick Jones paced the winners with 18 points with opposing center Rhinebolt hitting the net for 13 to lead the Martel squad. The game was close all the way with the score 16 all at half time. In the reserve contest Kirkpatrick downed Martel 42-4.

Elliott Most Valuable Michigan Grid Player

By The Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 26—Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, speedy wingback who scored against all but one of Michigan's opponents this season, is the most valuable player on the fabulous Big Nine champions.

Bump—who came here from Purdue university to become the player Coach Fritz Crisler has described as the best wingback he ever coached—was tagged with the "most valuable" title last night by his Rose Bowl-bound Wolverine teammates.

He piled up a total of 54 points this year for undefeated and untied Michigan, marking up two touchdowns against Indiana and scoring once against every other team his squad faced except Wisconsin. In the Badger game, however, he set up a score.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—The stock market held to a narrow range today in a quiet pre-holiday session. Near midday plus and minus signs were well intermixed.

Another batch of year-end, extra and increased dividend announcements was ignored with few exceptions. Brokers reported some tax selling and switching of accounts contributed to market irregularity while many customers held back in view of tomorrow's Thanksgiving recess and domestic and foreign uncertainties. Steels were unshaken by Secretary Harriman's request that the government be given "limited priority and allocation powers" over that metal.

Higher at times were Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, Woolworth, and Deere & Co. Dropping back occasionally were Youngstown Sheet, Phelps Dodge, Santa Fe, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Owens-Illinois, Philip Morris and Public Service of N. J.

Bonds were narrow and commodities mixed.

CURLEY

both Curley and Smith will be released in time to spend Thanksgiving with their families.

Charles G Ross, presidential secretary, said Smith would be released from the District of Columbia jail.

Curley and Smith began their sentences last June 26. Curley would have been eligible for parole Dec 26. Smith became eligible last Oct 26. Ross said the chief medical officer of the Danbury institution had informed the department of justice that the 73-year-old Curley is suffering from an acute heart condition and has diabetes. Ross said many petitions have been received by the department from members of both political parties recommending the release of Curley because of his age and his physical condition.

Curley is Democratic national committeeman from Massachusetts and also has served as U. S. representative and governor of his state.

Ross said the commutations were signed today on recommendation of Attorney General Tom Clark.

In announcing Smith's release, Ross said the president took the action in the interest of even-handed justice, since both Curley and Smith had been sentenced at the same time on the same charges.

Lead consumption in the United States during 1947 was more than a million tons.

Mr. Conscientious Motorist
1234 Reliable St.
Dependable, Ohio

Dear Sir:

Your presence in our service department last week caused us to pause momentarily and give the matter careful consideration.

We noticed the friendly attitude our service department personnel extended you while you were asking about needed repairs to your car. You, as is true with thousands of motorists, were puzzled about various mechanical workings of your car, and our personnel, as busy as they were, took time to explain the nature and need of the necessary repairs. They realized that you wanted and deserved the truth.

Then we watched while our service manager explained the accurate estimate of the cost and the time your car would be available. You left our office completely assured that your car would receive the finest attention possible and that it would be ready at the stated time.

We appreciate your business and we know you will not hesitate to return when the need arises again because we, too, now understand why you placed such confidence in our men.

Very truly yours,

SEES ATOMIC PEACE USE WITHIN 5 YEARS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26 — The first peacetime use of atomic energy should come within five years and by 25 years its application should be fairly widespread, a University of Chicago professor predicts.

Dr. Cyril S. Smith, a member of the advisory committee to the atomic energy commission, said work is going forward that will permit experimental generation of electric power from atomic energy in perhaps a couple of years."

Addressing the Cuyahoga council of the League of Women Voters, he declared the first nonmilitary use might be in propelling ships not requiring large power plants, such as destroyers and submarines.

Director of the university's institue for the study of metals, Dr. Smith asserted a "large percentage of the world's power may be generated by atomic energy" in 25 years if the material situation "breaks favorably."

Use of isotopes—radioactive byproducts of atomic piles—meanwhile, will develop slowly as a research tool that will be tremendous aid to improved living standards, he added.

Although predicting no industrial revolutions, he told the council atomic energy might accomplish these:

Permit distillation of the sea to provide drinking water for cities, make it possible to live in climates now shunned by man and allow large quantities of water to be transported great distances for irrigation purposes.

He told a questioner he thinks it will be five years before Russia will be able to manufacture an atomic bomb.

News of Our Boys

Pvt. Robert Eugene Leighty, son of Mrs. S. R. Mapley of 351 Commercial street, recently earned the right to wear the "Boots and Wings" of the United States Airborne Troops, according to a report received from the infantry school at Ft. Benning, Ga. He has completed six weeks of combined parachute and glider training at the school at Fort Benning, during which time he made six parachute jumps, the last being a tactical night jump.
